RENNA OSTOPOSIDES,

Plaintiff,

vs.

SOCRATES OSTOPOSIDES, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No.: 25TRCV03060

Hearing Date: June 24, 2026

Time: 8:30 a.m.

[TENTATIVE] ORDER RE:

(1) DEFENDANTS ZBS LAW, LLP AND MICHAEL BUSBY'S DEMURRER TO PLAINTIFF RENNA OSTOPOSIDES' FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT

(2) PLAINTIFF RENNA OSTOPOSIDES' REQUEST FOR LEAVE TO AMEND

MOVING PARTY: Defendants, ZBS Law, LLP and Michael Busby

RESPONDING PARTY: Plaintiff, Renna Ostoposides

(1) Defendants ZBS Law, LLP and Michael Busby's Demurrer to Plaintiff Renna Ostoposides' First Amended Complaint is SUSTAINED as to the first, third, fourth, and fifth causes of action and OVERRULED as to the second and sixth causes of action pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 430.10.

(2) Plaintiff Renna Ostoposides is GRANTED twenty (20) days Leave to Amend.

The Court considers the moving papers filed on May 21, 2026, the opposition brief filed on June 10, 2026, and the reply brief filed on June 17, 2026.

BACKGROUND

Factual Background

On September 9, 2025, plaintiff Renna Ostoposides ("Plaintiff") filed the Complaint against defendant Socrates Ostoposides.

On October 1, 2025, Plaintiff filed the First Amended Complaint ("FAC") against defendants David Holstein, the Holstein Group, LLC, ZBS Law, LLP, Michael Busby, and DOES 1 through 20. The FAC includes the following causes of action: (1) Quiet Title; (2) Cancellation of Instrument; (3) Fraud; (4) Declaratory Relief; (5) Injunctive Relief; and (6) Rescission of Deed of Trust.

On March 5, 2026, Plaintiff filed multiple amendments to the FAC, naming Altero Inc., Angelson, LLC, Samuel Ostayan, and Holstein Group Limited Partnership as defendants.

On March 6, 2026, Plaintiff filed two additional amendments to the FAC, naming David G. Holstein, as trustee of the David Holstein Separate Property Trust, and Holstein Group, Inc. as defendants.

On May 15, 2026, the counsel for ZBS Law, LLP and Michael Busby (collectively, "Defendants") emailed Plaintiff to discuss the alleged deficiencies in the FAC. (Declaration of Robert B. Norum ("Norum Decl."), ¶ 2.) However, Defendants' counsel contends that Plaintiff declined to address the issues that were raised. (Norum Decl., ¶ 2.)

REQUESTS FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

Filed concurrently with their moving papers, Defendants have filed a Request for Judicial Notice ("RJN"), requesting this Court take judicial notice of:

1. Deed of Trust, recorded on January 23, 2024, Exhibit 1;

2. Substitution of Trustee, recorded on April 4, 2025, Exhibit 2;

3. Notice of Default and Election to Sell Under Deed of Trust, recorded on April 4, 2025, Exhibit 3;

4. Notice of Trustee's Sale, recorded on July 9, 2025, Exhibit 4; and

5. Trustee's Deed Upon Sale, recorded November 7, 2025, Exhibit 5.

The Court GRANTS this request and takes judicial notice of these documents as "[o]fficial acts of the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of the United States and of any state of the United States[,]" in accordance with Evidence Code section 452, subdivision (c). However, the Court will not take judicial notice of the truth of the matters presented in these documents since they are subject to interpretation. (See L.B. Research & Education Foundation v. UCLA Foundation (2005) 130 Cal.App.4th 171, 180, fn. 2, citing Comings v. State Bd. of Education (1972) 23 Cal.App.3d 94.)

Filed concurrently with her opposition papers, Plaintiff has filed an RJN, requesting this Court take judicial notice of:

1. Doctor's Note, Exhibit A;

2. Notice of Pendency of Action (Lis Pendens), approved on September 11, 2025, Exhibit B;

3. Temporary Restraining Order issued on September 10, 2025, Exhibit C;

4. Quitclaim Deed, recorded on September 5, 2019, Exhibit D;

5. Short Form Deed of Trust and Assignment of Rents, recorded on January 23, 2024, Exhibit E;

6. Notice to Occupant(s) to Vacate Premises and Land, Exhibit F;

7. Web Printout from Zillow, Exhibit G;

8. Screenshot from Zillow, Exhibit H;

9. Screenshot of Screenshots, Exhibit I;

10. Court Docket for Bankruptcy Petition No. 2:25-bk-16797-DS in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Los Angeles, Exhibit J;

11. Order and Notice of Dismissal for Failure to File Schedules, dated November 3, 2025, Exhibit K;

12. Notice of Bankruptcy Case Filing in Case No. 2:25-bk-19102-DS in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Los Angeles, Exhibit L;

13. Court Docket for Bankruptcy Petition No. 2:25-bk-17938-DS in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Los Angeles, Exhibit M;

14. Screenshot, Exhibit N;

15. Notice of Trustee's Sale, recorded on July 9, 2025, Exhibit O;

16. Separate Statement from an MSJ, Exhibit P; and

17. Separate Statement from an MSJ, Exhibit Q.

The Court GRANTS the request concerning Request Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 15, and DENIES the request related to Request Nos. 1, 7, 8, 9, 14, 16, and 17. The Court takes judicial notice of Request Nos. 2, 4, 5, and 15 as "[o]fficial acts of the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of the United States and of any state of the United States[,]" in accordance with Evidence Code section 452, subdivision (c). The Court takes judicial notice of Request Nos. 3, 11, and 12 as "[r]ecords of (1) any court of this state or (2) any court of record of the United States or of any state of the United States[,]" in accordance with Evidence Code section 452, subdivision (d). The Court takes judicial notice of Request Nos. 6, 10, and 13 as "[f]acts and propositions that are not reasonably subject to dispute and are capable of immediate and accurate determination by resort to sources of reasonably indisputable accuracy[,]" in accordance with Evidence Code section 452, subdivision (h). The Court is unable to take judicial notice of the remaining documents, as it cannot ascertain their authenticity relative to Plaintiff's assertions.

Moreover, the Court will not take judicial notice of the truth of the matters presented in these documents since they are subject to interpretation. (See L.B. Research & Education Foundation v. UCLA Foundation (2005) 130 Cal.App.4th 171, 180, fn. 2, citing Comings v. State Bd. of Education (1972) 23 Cal.App.3d 94.)

PLAINTIFF'S OBJECTION

Plaintiff objects to "the declaration of nonmonetary status filed by defendant ZBS Law LLP." (Opp., p. 11.) However, this objection is deemed improper, as it does not pertain to the current demurrer and should be filed as a separate document. Consequently, the Court OVERRULES the objection.

MEET AND CONFER REQUIREMENT

Before filing a demurrer, the moving party is required to meet and confer in person, by telephone, or via video conference with the party that filed the pleading that is subject to the motion, to determine whether an agreement can be reached that would resolve the objections to be raised in the demurrer or motion to strike. (Code Civ. Proc., § 430.41, subd. (a).) The parties are to meet and confer at least five days before the date the responsive pleading is due. (Code Civ. Proc., § 430.41, subd. (a)(2).) Thereafter, the moving party shall file and serve a declaration detailing their meet-and-confer efforts. (Code Civ. Proc., § 430.41, subd. (a)(3).) A determination by the court that the meet and confer process was inadequate shall not be grounds to overrule or sustain a demurrer, or to grant or deny a motion to strike. (Code Civil Proc., § 430.41, subd. (a)(4).)

On May 15, 2026, Defendants' counsel emailed Plaintiff to discuss the alleged deficiencies in the FAC. (Norum Decl., ¶ 2.) However, Defendants' counsel contends that Plaintiff declined to address the issues that were raised. (Norum Decl., ¶ 2.)

Although the parties did not engage in the meet-and-confer process as required, the Court will still consider the merits of the demurrer. An insufficient meet-and-confer process is not a valid reason to overrule or sustain a demurrer.

LEGAL STANDARD

A demurrer can be used only to challenge defects that appear on the face of the pleading under attack or from matters outside the pleading that are judicially noticeable. (Blank v. Kirwan (1985) 39 Cal.3d 311, 318.) “To survive a demurrer, the complaint need only allege facts sufficient to state a cause of action; each evidentiary fact that might eventually form part of the plaintiff’s proof need not be alleged.” (C.A. v. William S. Hart Union High School Dist. (2012) 53 Cal.4th 861, 872.) For the purpose of testing the sufficiency of the cause of action, the demurrer admits the truth of all material facts properly pleaded. (Aubry v. Tri-City Hospital Dist. (1992) 2 Cal.4th 962, 966-967.) A demurrer “does not admit contentions, deductions or conclusions of fact or law.” (Daar v. Yellow Cab Co. (1967) 67 Cal.2d 695, 713.)

A pleading is uncertain if it is ambiguous or unintelligible. (Code Civ. Proc., § 430.10, subd. (f).) A demurrer for uncertainty may lie if the failure to label the parties and claims renders the complaint so confusing that the defendant cannot tell what he or she is supposed to respond to. (Williams v. Beechnut Nutrition Corp. (1986) 185 Cal.App.3d 135, 139, fn. 2.) However, “[a] demurrer for uncertainty is strictly construed, even where a complaint is in some respects uncertain, because ambiguities can be clarified under modern discovery procedures.” (Khoury v. Maly’s of California, Inc. (1993) 14 Cal.App.4th 612, 616.)

DISCUSSION

Plaintiff’s Opposition Brief

Defendants contend that Plaintiff’s opposition brief is procedurally deficient, asserting that it violates California Rules of Court, rules 2.108(1) and (4), as well as rule 3.1113(d). (Reply, p. 1:23-26.) The Court partially agrees.

“The spacing and numbering of lines on a page must be as follows: ¶ (1) The lines on each page must be one and one-half spaced or double-spaced and numbered consecutively. ¶ … (4) Line numbers must be placed at the left margin and separated from the text by a vertical column of space at least 1/5 inch wide or a single or double vertical line. Each line number must be aligned with a line of type, or the line numbers must be evenly spaced vertically on the page. Line numbers must be consecutively numbered, beginning with the number 1 on each page. There must be at least three line numbers for every vertical inch on the page.” (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 2.108(1), (4).)

“Except in a summary judgment or summary adjudication motion, no opening or responding memorandum may exceed 15 pages. In a summary judgment or summary adjudication motion, no opening or responding memorandum may exceed 20 pages. No reply or closing memorandum may exceed 10 pages. The page limit does not include the caption page, the notice of motion and motion, exhibits, declarations, attachments, the table of contents, the table of authorities, or the proof of service.” (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.1113(d).)

The Court finds that Plaintiff’s opposition brief fails to comply with rule 2.108(1), as it is neither one and one-half spaced nor double-spaced, and it does not consistently exhibit consecutive numbering. The brief appears to be single-spaced and does not uniformly include page numbers. Moreover, the absence of line numbers constitutes a violation of rule 2.108(4).

However, the Court does not agree that the brief contravenes rule 3.1113(d), given that the memorandum concludes on the tenth page. The remaining content involves an objection to the declaration of nonmonetary status filed by ZBS Law. LLP.

The Court informs Plaintiff that all future briefs must be prepared in accordance with the California Rules of Court. Any future filings that fail to comply with these regulations may be subject to striking. Nevertheless, the Court chooses not to strike this brief on this occasion.

Plaintiff’s Standing

Defendants demur to the entirety of the FAC on the grounds that Plaintiff lacks standing. (Dem., p. 8:7-22.) The Court disagrees.

“Standing derives from the principle that [e]very action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest. [Citation.] The real party in interest has an actual and substantial interest in the subject matter of the action, and stands to be benefited or injured by a judgment in the action. [Citations.] [A] plaintiff generally must assert his own legal rights and interests, and cannot rest his claim to relief on the legal rights or interests of third parties.” (Cohen v. TNP 2008 Participating Notes Program, LLC (2019) 243 Cal.App.5th 840, 855-856, internal citations and quotations omitted.)

Defendants contend that Plaintiff does not possess standing, as she “is not a party to the promissory note or DOT, nor does Plaintiff hold any interest in the Property.” (Dem., p. 6:20-21.) However, in her opposition brief, Plaintiff points to Probate Code section 9654 as the basis for her standing.

“The heirs or devisees may themselves, or jointly with the personal representative, maintain an action for possession of property or to quiet title to property against any person except the personal representative.” (Prob. Code, § 9654.)

In the FAC, Plaintiff asserts that she is the daughter of Olga Ostoposides, who is identified as “the sole owner of the property at 1407 Cota Avenue Torrance Ca 90501 before her death in 2021.” (FAC, ¶ 8.) Furthermore, Plaintiff claims that she “is one of the rightful heirs of Olga Ostoposides.” (FAC, ¶ 1.) As an alleged heir to the previous owner of the Torrance property, Plaintiff appears to have standing to bring this action against Defendants. Defendants do not contest this point in their reply brief.

Accordingly, the Court declines to sustain the demurrer on this basis.

Statutory Privilege

Defendants demur to the entirety of the FAC against ZBS Law, LLP, asserting that the firm is “is protected from liability by statutory privilege.” (Dem., p. 8:23.) Specifically, Defendants contend that “the conduct of ZBS as the statutory foreclosure trustee was privileged at all relevant times, as a matter of law under Civil Code §§ 47 and 2924(d).” (Dem., p. 9:4-6.) The Court disagrees.

The referenced statutes pertain to privileged communications as defined by the qualified common-interest privilege outlined in Civil Code section 47, subdivision (c). Civil Code section 47, subdivision (c), states that, “A privileged publication or broadcast is one made: ¶ … In a communication, without malice, to a person interested therein, (1) by one who is also interested, or (2) by one who stands in such a relation to the person interested as to afford a reasonable ground for supposing the motive for the communication to be innocent, or (3) who is requested by the person interested to give the information.” Additionally, Civil Code section 2924, subdivision (d) states that “[a]ll of the following shall constitute privileged communications pursuant to Section 47: ¶ (1) The mailing, publication, and delivery of notices as required by this section. ¶ (2) Performance of the procedures set forth in this article. ¶ (3) Performance of the functions and procedures set forth in this article if those functions and procedures are necessary to carry out the duties described in Sections 729.040, 729.050, and 729.080 of the Code of Civil Procedure.” In Kachlon v. Markowitz, the Court of Appeal found that “section 2924 deems the statutorily required mailing, publication, and delivery of notices in nonjudicial foreclosure, and the performance of statutory nonjudicial foreclosure procedures, to be privileged communications under the qualified common-interest privilege of section 47, subdivision (c)(1).” (Kachlon v. Markowitz (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 316, 333.)

Defendants do not explain the relevance of these statutes or how they would bar Plaintiff’s causes of action against ZBS Law, LLP. The Court will not perform this analysis on behalf of Defendants.

Furthermore, Defendants assert that “the Court in Kachlon also noted that another provision of Civil Code § 2924 grants a trustee immunity for any good faith error resulting from reliance on information provided in good faith by the lender regarding the nature and the amount of the default under the deed of trust[,]" thus barring recovery against ZBS Law, LLP. (Dem., p. 10:12-15.) The Court disagrees.

Civil Code section 2924, subdivision (c) states that "[i]n performing acts required by this article or responding to requests for payoff or reinstatement information, the trustee shall not incur liability for any good faith error resulting from reliance on information provided in good faith by the beneficiary regarding the nature and the amount of the default under the secured obligation, deed of trust, or mortgage. In performing the acts required by this article or responding to requests for payoff or reinstatement information, a trustee shall not be subject to Title 1.6c (commencing with Section 1788) of Part 4."

Once again, Defendants fail to clarify the relevance of this statute or to demonstrate how it would bar Plaintiff's causes of action against ZBS Law, LLP. The Court will not engage in this analysis on behalf of Defendants.

Accordingly, the Court declines to sustain the demurrer on this basis.

First Cause of Action – Quiet Title

Defendants demur to the first cause of action for quiet title on the grounds that ZBS Law, LLP does not possess an adverse interest in relation to Plaintiff. (Dem., pp. 11:22-12:2.) The Court agrees.

"[A] quiet title action is aimed at a person who may be asserting a claim to property, and is framed simply by alleging that the plaintiff is the owner and entitled to possession, and that the defendant claims an interest, adverse to the plaintiff, without right." (Wolfe v. Lipsy (1985) 163 Cal.App.3d 633, 638.)

In the FAC, Plaintiff fails to allege that ZBS Law, LLP holds any interest in the Torrance property. Plaintiff merely asserts that "Defendant ZBS LAW, LLP is a business entity conducting foreclosure trustee activities in California and was the trustee or agent initiating the foreclosure sale on the subject property." (FAC, ¶ 5.) However, merely facilitating a foreclosure does not grant any ownership interest to the facilitating party.

Moreover, in her opposition, Plaintiff claims that "they are the 'Substitute Trustee' who recorded the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale—the document that currently prevents the rightful heirs from claiming title. (Defendants RUN Exhibit 2 & 5)" (Opp., p. 3.) However, Plaintiff's Requests Nos. 2 and 5 do not reference ZBS Law, LLP, nor does the act of recording a deed grant an adverse ownership interest to ZBS Law, LLP.

Accordingly, the Court SUSTAINS Defendants' demurrer to the first cause of action for quiet title.

Second and Sixth Causes of Action – Cancellation of Instruments and Rescission of Deed of Trust

Defendants demur to the second and sixth causes of action for cancellation of instruments and rescission of deed of trust on the grounds that (1) Plaintiff lacks an independent claim for relief against ZBS Law, LLP, and (2) Plaintiff fails to satisfy the tender requirement. (Dem., p. 12:3-22.) The Court disagrees.

Defendants contend that the second cause of action is deficient on the basis that Plaintiff does not possess an independent claim for relief against ZBS Law, LLP, as required under McFarland v. JP Morgan Chase Bank (C.D. Cal., Apr. 28, 2014, No. EDCV 13–01838–JGB (OPx)) 2014 WL 1705968, *13. (Dem., p. 12:7-8.) The Court disagrees.

The United States District Court clarified that "[a] request for the cancellation of an instrument such as a deed of trust is an equitable remedy that is dependent upon a substantive basis for liability and has no separate viability. [Citation.] Thus, the viability of a cancellation of instruments cause of action turns on the Plaintiff's other claims for relief." (McFarland v. JP Morgan Chase Bank (C.D. Cal., Apr. 28, 2014, No. EDCV 13–01838–JGB (OPx)) 2014 WL 1705968, *13.)

Defendants do not elucidate why Plaintiff purportedly lacks an independent claim for relief against ZBS Law, LLP. The Court will not advocate for this position on their behalf.

Additionally, Defendants argue that the second and sixth causes of action are deficient because Plaintiff does not allege that she tendered any amounts due under the deed of trust. (Dem., p. 12:8-22.)

"[I]n the context of overcoming a voidable sale, the debtor must tender any amounts due under the deed of trust. [Citations.] This requirement is based on the theory that one who is relying upon equity in overcoming a voidable sale must show that he is able to perform his obligations under the contract so that equity will not have been employed for an idle purpose. [Citation.]" (Dimock v. Emerald Properties LLC (2000) 81 Cal.App.4th 868, 877-878.) However, "[t]ender has been excused when, among other circumstances, the plaintiff alleges the foreclosure deed is facially void[.]" (Yyanova v. New Century Mortgage Corp. (2016) 62 Cal.4th 919, 929, fn. 4.)

Here, Plaintiff seeks "a declaration that the loan secured by the deed of trust is rescinded and void." (FAC, ¶ 36.) This assertion implies that Plaintiff asserts the deed of trust is void, rather than merely voidable, thus negating the necessity for an allegation of tender.

Accordingly, the Court OVERRULES Defendants' demurrer to the second and sixth causes of action for cancellation of instruments and rescission of deed of trust.

Third Cause of Action – Fraud

Defendants demur to the third cause of action for fraud on the grounds that "there was no misrepresentation." (Dem., p. 13:10.) The Court agrees.

"The elements of fraud, which gives rise to the tort action for deceit, are (a) misrepresentation (false representation, concealment, or nondisclosure); (b) knowledge of falsity (or 'scienter'); (c) intent to defraud, i.e., to induce reliance; (d) justifiable reliance; and (e) resulting damage. [Citation.]" (Small v. Fritz Companies, Inc. (2003) 30 Cal.4th 167, 173, internal citations and quotations omitted.)

Here, the FAC fails to articulate any misrepresentations made by Defendants to Plaintiff. Although Plaintiff attempts to introduce these misrepresentations in her opposition brief, the Court is constrained to consider only the allegations contained within the four corners of the complaint and cannot entertain any extrinsic claims. (Opp., pp. 6-8.)

Accordingly, the Court SUSTAINS Defendants' demurrer to the third cause of action for fraud.

Fourth Cause of Action – Declaratory Relief

Defendants demur to the fourth cause of action for declaratory relief on the grounds that there is no actual, present controversy between Plaintiff and ZBS Law, LLP. (Dem., p. 13:12-26.)

"The requirement that plaintiffs seeking declaratory relief allege the existence of an actual, present controversy [citation] would be illusory if a plaintiff could meet it simply by pointing to the very lawsuit in which he or she seeks that relief. [Citation.] Obviously, the requirement cannot be met in such a bootstrapping manner; a request for declaratory relief will not create a cause of action that otherwise does not exist. [Citation.] Rather, an actual, present controversy must be pleaded specifically and the facts of the respective claims concerning the [underlying] subject must be given. [Citations.]" (City of Cotati v. Cashman (2002) 29 Cal.4th 69, 80, internal citations and quotations omitted.)

The FAC does not present any facts that establish an actual controversy between Plaintiff and ZBS Law, LLP. Plaintiff merely states that "ZBS LAW, LLP is a business entity conducting foreclosure trustee activities in California and was the trustee or agent initiating the foreclosure sale on the subject property." (FAC, ¶ 5.) This statement does not constitute an actual controversy. Moreover, Plaintiff asserts that "[a]n actual controversy exists regarding the validity of the deeds recorded by Defendant Socrates Ostoposides, the loan transaction with Defendants Holstein and Holstein Group, LLC, and the right to foreclose." (FAC, ¶ 34.) However, there is no analogous conclusory assertion made regarding ZBS Law, LLP.

To the extent that Plaintiff attempts to introduce the allegations demonstrating an actual controversy within the opposition brief, the Court is again constrained to consider only the allegations contained within the four corners of the complaint and cannot entertain any extrinsic claims.

Accordingly, the Court SUSTAINS Defendants' demurrer to the fourth cause of action for declaratory relief.

First Cause of Action – Injunctive Relief

Defendants demur to the fifth cause of action for injunctive relief on two grounds: (1) it does not constitute a valid cause of action, and (2) "Plaintiff's request for injunctive relief is moot due to the completion of the Foreclosure Sale on October 21, 2025." (Dem., p. 14:1-9.) The Court agrees with the first assertion.

"Injunctive relief is a remedy and not, in itself, a cause of action, and a cause of action must exist before injunctive relief may be granted." (Shell Oil Co. v. Richter (1942) 52 Cal.App.2d 164, 168.)

The FAC improperly categorizes injunctive relief as a cause of action. (FAC, p. 5.)

Accordingly, the Court SUSTAINS Defendants' demurrer to the fifth cause of action for injunctive relief.

ORDERS

1) Defendants ZBS Law, LLP and Michael Busby's Demurrer to Plaintiff Renna Ostoposides' First Amended Complaint is SUSTAINED with respect to the first, third, fourth with twenty (20) days Leave to Amend.

2) OVERRULED with respect to the fifth, second and sixth causes of action.

3) Defendants are ordered to give notice of the Court's ruling.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
