Chacon v. Los Angeles Unified School

District

25STCV27679

Defendant's Motion to Compel Plaintiff to Provide Further Responses to Form Interrogatories (Set One)

Defendant's Motion to Compel Plaintiff to Provide Further Responses to Special Interrogatories (Set One)

Defendant's Motion to Compel Plaintiff to Provide Further Responses to Requests for Production (Set One)

Tentative Ruling

The motions to compel further responses to interrogatories are granted in part. The motion to compel further responses to requests for production is granted. The request for sanctions is granted in part.

As a threshold matter, the motion is timely. The responses were served on May 8, and the motion was filed on June 24.

The correspondence between counsel cannot reasonably be construed to shorten the time to file a motion to compel (to one court day) as to the supplemental discovery responses served on May 8.

The Court rejects Plaintiff's request for the opportunity to brief the issue further.

Plaintiff filed an opposition. Plaintiff was required to include in the opposition all arguments as to why the motion should be denied; a party cannot include only some arguments in the opposition and then expect to receive the opportunity to submit further, supplemental briefing if the Court does not accept their initial arguments.

Form Interrogatories. The motion is granted as to Form

Interrogatories 6.2, 6.3, 6.4, 6.5, 6.7, and 12.1. The responses are not code compliant. The motion is denied as to Form Interrogatories 6.6 and 10.1.

Special Interrogatories. The motion is granted as to Special Interrogatories Nos. 10 and 14. The responses are not code compliant. The motion is denied as to Special Interrogatory No. 13.

Requests for Production. The motion is granted as to all requests included in the motion (Requests Nos. 1-6, 8-12, 14, 18, 20, and 25-27). Plaintiff is to provide a new, working, unexpired link to the documents produced.

Sanctions.

The requests for sanctions are granted in part. Plaintiff has unsuccessfully opposed these three motions without substantial justification, and there is no evidence in the record that the imposition of sanctions would be unjust. Given the straightforward nature of these motions, and the economies of scale associated with preparing three parallel discovery motions, the Court sets sanctions on each motion in the amount of $500 (for two hours of attorney time multiplied by counsel's reasonable billing rate of $250 per hour), for a total of $1,500.
