Nydell v. Antonio Gonzales, III et al.,

TENTATIVE RULING

The Motion to Compel Further Responses to Requests for Production of Documents (Set One) is hereby taken off calendar as MOOT.

Discussion

In its March 17, 2026 Minute Order, the Court continued Plaintiff's motion to compel further responses to requests for production of documents (set one) and ordered the parties to participate in an Informal Discovery Conference ("IDC") to resolve any remaining discovery disputes. The Court explained in detail in its Minute Order, that no discovery issues appeared to remain for the Court to resolve. The Court further ordered that, if the parties resolved their discovery disputes before the IDC date, Plaintiff was to take both the IDC and the motion off calendar. (See March 17, 2026 Minute Order.)

On May 1, 2026, the parties stipulated to continue the May 4, 2026 hearing on the motion to a date at least 45 days in the future to allow additional time to complete the meet-and-confer process and IDC ordered by the Court. (See May 1, 2026 Stipulation and Order.)

As of June 25, 2026, there are no IDC requests, supplemental papers, declarations, or other filings that have been submitted by either party clarifying what discovery, if any, remains in dispute. There is no indication that an IDC took place, and the instant motion remains on calendar. Accordingly, the Court interprets the lack of compliance with court orders to set an IDC and the lack of any filings establishing the nature and extent of the discovery dispute, as an indication that the parties' discovery disputes have been resolved and that the motion is no longer needed. Thus, the Court takes the hearing off calendar.

The Motion to Compel Further Responses to Requests for Production of Documents (Set One) is hereby taken off calendar as MOOT.
