Wicker v.

IMAX Corporation. et al.

Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Further

Responses to Request for Admissions

The

court declines to take judicial notice of a prior order in an unrelated action.

Plaintiff

moves for further responses to requests for admissions numbers 1, 2, 4, 5, and 6 on grounds that responses are noncompliant and therefore insufficient.

Plaintiff also challenges the "vague and ambiguous" objections. Defendant in opposition first contends an inadequate meet and confer effort. Defendant next specifically identifies the "admit" response to numbers 1 and 2. On numbers 4, 5 and 6, Defendant reiterates the vague and ambiguous objections.

Plaintiff reached out in an effort to meet and confer. [Declaration of Armen Zenjiryan, ¶ 4, Ex. 2.] Defendant asserts limited effort, but also presents no proof of a response to the initial effort.

[Declaration of Joseph Hadacek, ¶¶ 3-4, Ex B.] The effort appears sufficient.

Further, the court held an IDC on the subject items. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2033.290, subd. (b)(1).)

For requests numbers 1 and 2, the responses admit to no written policies. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2033.220, subd. (b)(1).) For numbers 4, 5, and 6, Plaintiff requests information about the alleged promotion policy, including the timing of any disclosure to Plaintiff. Defendant responds only with a "vague and ambiguous" objection and inability to "admit or deny" the request. The objections are unconvincing. Defendant both knows its own policies at the time (for number 4), and also should be aware of the person(s) responsible for promotion decisions and communications with direct reports.

CONCLUSION

The Court denies Plaintiff's Motion to Compel further responses to request for admissions, numbers 1 and 2, and grants the Motion to Compel further responses to numbers 4, 5, and 6. Given the mixed outcome of the Plaintiff's motion arising from Defendant's opposition having some justification, the court denies sanctions.
