Case Number 23AVCV01100

[TENTATIVE]

RULING ON MOTION

Date of Hearing: September 1, 2026

Dept. A-14

Judge William H. Forman

I. Background

This is a negligence and premises liability case. Plaintiffs jointly move to compel further discovery responses from Defendant Turtle Hospitality, LLC (Defendant).

On September 29, 2023, Plaintiffs filed their complaint against Defendants BG Hotel Group, LLC and Defendant Turtle Hospitality asserting five causes of action for: (1) Negligence – Premises Liability/Failure to Warn – Negligence Per Se; (2) Nuisance; (3) Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress (“IIED”); (4) Breach of Contract; and (5) Fraudulent Concealment.

Plaintiffs allege that they stayed at America’s Best Value Inn & Suites located at 44131 Sierra Highway, Lancaster, California 93534 (the Property) and Defendants failed to repair and maintain the Property in a reasonably safe condition, causing Plaintiffs to endure an infestation of bed bugs, leading to physical injuries, property damage, emotional distress, and mental health injuries. (Compl., ¶¶ 2-6.)

On October 8, 2024, Defendant BG Hotel Group, LLC (BGHG) filed its answer.

On December 20, 2024, Turtle Hospitality filed its answer.

On February 19, 2026, Plaintiff filed an amendment to the complaint naming Errors Logistics, Inc. (Errors) as DOE 1.

On June 15, 2026, Plaintiffs filed the present motion to compel.

On July 8, 2026, Errors filed an answer and cross-complaint against Antelope Valley Domestic Violence Council, dba Valley Oasis, and ROEs 1-20, asserting causes of action for (1) equitable indemnity, (2) contribution, (3) apportionment of fault, and (4) declaratory relief.

On August 20, 2026, Defendant filed its opposition.

No reply has been filed.

II. Preliminary Procedural Issues

Timeliness of Defendant’s Objection – All opposition papers are due 9 court days before the hearing on the motion. (Code Civ. Proc., § 1005, subd. (b).) Defendant’s opposition was due on or before August 19, 2026, but was not filed until August 20th, rendering the opposition untimely.

However, in the interests of adjudicating the issue, and in the absence of any objection from or prejudice to Plaintiff, the Court will exercise its discretion and consider the opposition papers.

Meet and Confer Requirement – A motion to compel further responses must be accompanied by a meet and confer declaration showing “a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion.” (Code Civ. Proc., §§ 2016.040, 2030.300, subd. (b)(1), 2031.310, subd. (b)(2), 2033.290, subd. (b)(1).)

Plaintiff's counsel Brian J. Virag asserts that Plaintiffs have made a good faith effort to informally resolve the discovery issues, and on June 8, 2026, Plaintiff's counsel sent a meet and confer letter to Defense counsel, to which Defense counsel failed to respond. (Virag Decl., ¶¶ 8, 11; Notice of Motion, Ex. A.)

III. Legal Standard

Standard for Motions to Compel Further Discovery Responses - Interrogatories – In responding to a set of interrogatories, a party must provide one of the following: (1) an answer “containing the information sought to be discovered”; (2) “an exercise of the party’s option to produce writings”; or (3) an objection to the particular interrogatory. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2030.210, subd. (a).) Each answer to an interrogatory “shall be as complete and straightforward as the information reasonably available to the responding party permits.” (Code Civ. Proc. § 2030.220, subd. (a).) If any objections are made, “the specific ground for the objection shall be set forth clearly in the response.” (Code Civ. Proc., § 2030.240, subd. (b).)

Upon receipt of responses to interrogatories, the propounding party may move for an order compelling further responses if they deem the responses to be “evasive or incomplete” or if “[a]n objection to an interrogatory is without merit or too general.” (Code Civ. Proc., §§ 2030.300(a)(1), (a)(3).) A motion to compel further responses to interrogatories must be accompanied by a meet and confer declaration showing “a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion.” (Code Civ. Proc., §§ 2016.040, 2030.300, subd. (b)(1).) The motion must also be accompanied by a separate statement containing the text of the interrogatories at issue, the text of each response at issue, and a statement of the reasons why a further response is required, though the court may permit a party to submit “a concise outline of the discovery request and each response in dispute” in lieu of a separate statement. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2030.300, subd. (b)(2); Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.1345.)

A motion to compel further response lies where the party to whom the interrogatories were directed gave responses deemed improper by the propounding party; e.g., objections, or evasive or incomplete answers. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2030.300.) Unlike a motion to compel further responses to a request for production, there is no “good cause” requirement applicable to a motion to compel further responses to interrogatories. “The ruling usually is based on consideration of the following factors: the relationship of the information sought to the issues framed in the pleadings; the likelihood that disclosure will be of practical benefit to the party seeking discovery; the burden or expense likely to be encountered by the responding party in furnishing the information sought.” (Weil, et al., Cal. Prac. Guide, Civil Procedure Before Trial, Ch. 8F-7, ¶ 8:1181; see also Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc v. Superior Court (1968) 263 Cal.App.2d 12, 18–19 [“[I]n deciding a motion under [former] section 2030 the trial court must, of necessity, consider not only the stated objections to the interrogatories, but also the interrogatories themselves, as well as the pleadings, and the contentions of the interrogating party as to the purpose and validity of the interrogatories. If the interrogatories stray too far and seek information which cannot reasonably serve the acknowledged purposes of pretrial discovery, the motion should be denied.”].) If a timely motion to compel has been filed, the burden is on the responding party to justify any objection or failure to fully answer. (Coy v. Superior Court of Contra Costa County (1962) 58 Cal.2d 210, 220–221.)

If a party fails to serve a timely response to interrogatories, the party waives the right to exercise the option to produce writings under Section 2030.230 and waives any objection to the demand, including objections based on privilege or work product. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2030.290, subd. (a).) The Court may relieve a party of this waiver only if the party has subsequently served a substantially code-compliant response and the party’s failure to serve a timely response was the result of mistake, inadvertence, or excusable neglect. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2030.290, subd. (a)(1)-(2).)

Standard for Motions to Compel Further Discovery Responses – Requests for Production of Documents – A party to whom a demand for inspection, copying, testing, or sampling has been directed shall respond separately to each item or category of item by (1) a statement that the party will comply with the particular demand, (2) a representation that the party lacks the ability to comply with the demand, or (3) an objection to the particular demand. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.210.) A representation of inability to comply with the particular demand shall (1) affirm that a diligent search and a reasonable inquiry has been made in an effort to comply with that demand, (2) specify whether the inability to comply is because the particular item or category has never existed, has been destroyed, has been lost, misplaced, or stolen, or has never been, or is no longer, in the possession, custody, or control of the responding party, and (3) set forth the name and address of any natural person or organization known or believed by that party to have possession, custody, or control of that item or category of item. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.230.)

If only part of an item or category of item in a demand is objectionable, the response shall contain a statement of compliance, or a representation of inability to comply with respect to the remainder of that item or category. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.240, subd. (a).) If the responding party objects to the demand for an item or category of item, the response shall (1) identify with particularity any document, tangible thing, land, or electronically stored information falling within any category of item in the demand to which an objection is being made, and (2) set forth clearly the extent of, and the specific ground for, the objection, and if based on a claim of privilege, the particular privilege invoked shall be stated, and if based on a claim that the information sought is protected work product, that claim shall be expressly asserted. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.240, subd. (b).) If an objection is based on a claim of privilege or a claim that the information sought is protected work product, the response shall provide sufficient factual information for other parties to evaluate the merits of that claim, including, if necessary, a privilege log. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.240, subd. (c)(1).)

A demanding party may move for an order compelling further response to RPDs if (1) a statement of compliance with the demand is incomplete, (2) a representation of inability to comply is inadequate, incomplete, or evasive, or (3) an objection in the response is without merit or too general. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.310, subd. (a).) Motions to compel further responses to requests for production must set forth specific facts showing good cause justifying the discovery sought by the request. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.310, subd. (b)(1).) To establish good cause, a discovery proponent must identify a disputed fact that is of consequence in the action and explain how the discovery sought will tend in reason to prove or disprove that fact or lead to other evidence that will tend to prove or disprove the fact. (Digital Music News LLC v. Superior Court (2014) 226 Cal.App.4th 216, 224 (disapproved on other grounds by Williams v. Superior Court (2017) 3 Cal.5th 531).)

If a party fails to serve a timely response to a request for production, the party waives any objection to the demand, including objections based on privilege or work product. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.300, subd. (a).) The Court may relieve a party of this waiver only if the party has subsequently served a substantially code-compliant response and the party's failure to serve a timely response was the result of mistake, inadvertence, or excusable neglect. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2031.300, subd. (a)(1)-(2).)

Standard for Motions to Compel Further Discovery Responses – Requests for Admissions – The party to whom requests for admission have been directed shall respond in writing under oath separately to each request and each response shall answer the substance of the requested admission, or set forth an objection to the particular request. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2033.210, subd. (a)-(b).) Each answer shall be as complete and straightforward as the information reasonably available to the responding party permits, and shall (1) Admit so much of the matter involved in the request as is true, either as expressed in the request itself or as reasonably and clearly qualified by the responding party, (2) deny so much of the matter involved in the request as is untrue, and (3) specify so much of the matter involved in the request as to the truth of which the responding party lacks sufficient information or knowledge. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2033.220, subd. (a)-(b).) If a responding party gives lack of information or knowledge as a reason for a failure to admit all or part of a request for admission, that party shall state in the answer that a reasonable inquiry concerning the matter in the particular request has been made, and that the information known or readily obtainable is insufficient to enable that party to admit the matter. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2033.220, subd. (c).)

If only a part of a request for admission is objectionable, the remainder of the request shall be answered. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2033.230, subd. (a).) A party may move for an order compelling a further response to requests for admissions if (1) an answer to a particular request is evasive or incomplete or (2) an objection to a particular request is without merit or too general. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2033.290, subd. (a).)

I. Discussion

Application – Defendant moves to compel Plaintiff's (1) further responses to supplemental pre-trial interrogatories, (2) further responses to request for production of documents, set two, (3) further responses to supplemental pre-trial request for production, (4) further responses to supplemental pre-trial form interrogatories, and (5) further responses to special interrogatories, set two.

On May 23, 2025, Plaintiffs propounded their first sets of Form Interrogatories, Special Interrogatories, Requests for Admission, and Requests for Production of Documents. (Virag Decl., ¶ 5.) On April 27, 2026, Defendant served its responses. (Id. at ¶ 6.) The parties attended an Informal Discovery Conference on June 30, 2026, after which Defendant investigated the substantive issues raised by Plaintiffs in their Separate Statement, and Defendant served supplemental responses to certain Form Interrogatories, Special Interrogatories, and Requests for Production on August 19, 2026. (Robinson Decl., ¶¶ 4-8.)

Plaintiffs generally argue that Defendant's responses are evasive, incomplete, deficient, and do not comply with the applicable Code of Civil Procedure requirements, improperly claim an inability to comply with the requests without identifying record custodians or document recipients, Defendant failed to conduct a reasonable and good-faith inquiry, the responses are boilerplate a non-individualized, and good cause exists to compel further responses. (See Motion generally.) Plaintiffs raise no argument as to untimeliness of initial responses or waiver of objections.

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the present motion is not necessarily moot because Defendant served supplemental responses prior to the hearing on the motion. Sinaiko Healthcare Consulting, Inc. v. Pacific Healthcare Consultants (2007) 148 Cal.App.4th 390 expressly authorizes the Court to hear a motion to compel initial responses even where a party filed untimely responses after the motion to compel was filed but before the hearing. The Sinaiko Court reasoned that to accept that a court has no discretion to hear and rule on a motion to compel initial responses after untimely responses are provided "would remove an important incentive for parties to respond to discovery in a timely fashion" and "a party to whom interrogatories were directed could wait until the hearing on a section 2030.290 motion was imminent, then serve a set of evasive and incomplete responses, and thereby unilaterally deprive the trial court of authority to hear the motion." (Sinaiko, supra, 148 Cal.App.4th at 408.) Therefore, "once a party has failed to serve timely [discovery] responses, the trial court has the authority to hear a propounding party's motion to compel responses... regardless of whether a party serves an untimely response." (Ibid.)

The County of San Benito v. Superior Court (2023) 96 Cal.App.5th 243, 256 echoed Sinaiko's reasoning in holding the same as to motions to compel further responses, stating that to adopt such an "interpretation of the discovery act—that a party opposing a motion to compel further responses may unilaterally divest the court of authority to rule on the motion by serving a further response in the interim—would permit a party faced with a motion to compel to delay its adjudication indefinitely by successive supplemental but inadequate responses, each prompting a further motion to compel, each of which in turn would be defeated by piecemeal supplementation." As such, the Court will consider the merits of the motion. Plaintiff has filed no reply objecting to the supplemental responses in whole or in part. However, the motion remains on calendar, so the Court will analyze the motion based on the initial responses and the supplemental responses that have been provided in ruling on each request.

a. Form Interrogatories

At issue is Form Interrogatory No. 15.1, which reads: "Identify each denial of a material allegation and each special or affirmative defense in your pleadings and for each: a. state all facts upon which you base the denial or special or affirmative defense; b. state the names, ADDRESSES, and telephone numbers of all PERSONS who have knowledge of those facts; and c. identify all DOCUMENTS and other tangible things that support your denial or special or affirmative defense, and state the name, ADDRESS, and telephone number of the PERSON who has each DOCUMENT." (Sep. Statement, p. 5:16-24.) Plaintiffs assert Defendant's response does not represent a good faith effort to provide complete and straightforward information as required by Code of Civil Procedure sections 2031.010 and 2031.210. (Id. at 6:25-7:2.)

Defendant responded with objections, a general denial of all allegations in the complaint, the basis for the general denial that Defendant did not operate, own, or manage the Property during the period alleged, and each affirmative defense was prospectively pled to protect Defendant's rights. (Sep. Statement, p. 6:1-23.) Defendant asserts it served supplemental responses to this interrogatory, but appears to have responded to Form Interrogatory 17.1, which requests identification of each unqualified admission response to the request for admission served and the number of the request, all facts on which the response was based, identifying information of all individuals with knowledge of those facts, and identification of all supporting documents and persons who has each document. (Robinson Decl., Ex. C, p. 2:4-9.) Defendant's responses provide further detail as to the requests for admissions (RFAs) at issue and will be discussed below in accordance with Plaintiffs' requests for further responses to the RFAs.

Otherwise, Defendant argues no further response is warranted to No. 15.1 because the response is not boilerplate, states the specific factual basis for Defendant's general denial and affirmative defenses, and Defendant asserts it conducted a reasonable inquiry before responding. (Defendant's Sep. Statement, p. 4:19-5:3.)

Defendant's responses to Form Interrogatory No. 15.1 are incomplete. Defendant has not identified each denial of a material allegation and each special or affirmative defense in its Pleadings, and while it has provided the general facts upon which its general denial is based, has not provided the names, addresses, and telephone numbers or all persons who have knowledge of those facts, and has not identified all documents and other tangible things supporting the denial or the name, address, and telephone number of the person who has each document. Defendant's supplemental responses regarding the RFAs also do not sufficiently address this Interrogatory, as Defendant's inability to identify persons with knowledge or documents supporting their denial of the RFAs at issue does not encompass the request set forth in Form Interrogatory 15.1.

Plaintiffs' request is therefore GRANTED as to Form Interrogatory No. 15.1.

b. Special Interrogatories

At issue are Special Interrogatory Nos. 2, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 19, 20, 21, 22, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 39, 41, and 42. (Sep. Statement, p. 3:3-4.) No. 21 is not included on Plaintiffs' Separate Statement and will not be ruled on.

In its initial response to these Interrogatories, Defendant objected to and refused to respond to Nos. 2, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 19, 20, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 39, 41. Defendant responded with only objections to Nos. 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37. Defendant provided incomplete responses to No. 22. Defendant provided sufficient responses to Nos. 25, 26, and 42.

The Court notes that there appears to be ambiguity as to the meaning of "HOTEL ROOM" referenced in many of these requests. However, it also appears from Defendant's opposition that each of the individual Plaintiffs propounded separate sets of discovery, and the present motion fails to identify which of the Plaintiffs' request is at issue for any particular Interrogatory propounded. To the extent that there is no identifying information provided as to which hotel room is referenced in the specific request for which further response is requested, Plaintiffs shall define "HOTEL ROOM" and provide sufficient information for Defendant to conduct investigation and provide supplemental responses. To the extent that the hotel room referenced is clearly discernable from the specific request at issue, in that it is (1) connected to one or more specifically identified Plaintiff(s) and (2) the hotel rooms associated with each Plaintiff are made clear, Defendant's objections based on ambiguity of the word "HOTEL ROOM" is meritless. Defendant's objections based on ambiguity to the extent that certain interrogatories state a present tense action preceded by a specified past time frame, such as "Do YOU" or "YOU provide" "... during the last five (5) years" is also meritless, as the interrogatories are clear that the information sought is responsive information within the last five years and Defendant is on sufficient notice as to what is being requested. Defendant's ambiguity objections as to the meaning "SUBJECT PROPERTY" are also baseless.

Defendant's objections based on relevance and that the requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, or oppressive are also meritless objections, as all Interrogatories appear relevant to the subject matter of this action, the history of the maintenance of the Property as related to the allegations in the complaint, and seek information for only the last five years, many of which Defendant contends were transferred along with the sale in 2021. Thus, the requests are limited in scope as to Defendant, and Defendant makes no assertion of any attempt to comply with the requests.

Pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 2030.220, each answer shall be as complete and straightforward as the information reasonably available to the responding party permits, if an interrogatory cannot be answered completely, it shall be answered to the extent possible, and if Defendant does not have personal knowledge sufficient to respond fully to an interrogatory, it shall so state, but shall make a reasonable and good faith effort to obtain the information by inquiry to other natural persons or organizations, except where the information is equally available to the propounding party. The initial responses were insufficient.

Defendant provided supplemental responses to Nos. 2, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 19, 20, 22, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 37, 39, and 41. (Robinson Decl., ¶ 6, Ex. A.) No supplemental responses were provided for Nos. 25 (initial response sufficient), 36 (initial response insufficient), or 42 (initial response sufficient).

The Court finds the defects in Defendant's responses were sufficiently cured as to Nos. 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 19, 20, 22, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 37, 39, and 41.

The Court finds deficiencies in responses still exist as to No. 2, as the request is not limited to Defendant's period of ownership, and no response is provided as to any information known to Defendant regarding management, nor any statement of inability to comply. Defendant's initial response to No. 36 was not supplemented and remains deficient.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs' motion is GRANTED as to Special Interrogatories Nos. 2 and 36. Plaintiff's motion is DENIED as to Special Interrogatories Nos. 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 19, 20, 22, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 37, 39, 41, and 42. The Court does not rule on Special Interrogatory No. 21 as it was omitted from Plaintiffs' Separate Statement.

c. Requests for Admission

At issue are RFA Nos. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 16, 17, 18, 22, 23, and 29. (Sep. Statement, p. 3:4-5.)

In its initial responses to the RFAs, Defendant objected to, but provided sufficient responses to Nos. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 16, 17, 18, 22, 23, and 29. Defendant complied with Code of Civil Procedure section 2023.220, subdivision (c) by giving lack of information or knowledge as a reason for its failure to admit all or part of any of the requests, and stated in its answer that a reasonable inquiry concerning the matter in the particular request has been made, and that the information known or readily obtainable is insufficient to enable that party to admit the matter.

Defendant further supplemented its responses to all of the at-issue requests stating it did not own the Property at the time Plaintiffs stayed there, managed the Property itself during its ownership without retaining any separate management company, sold the Property in 2021 and retained no guest, folio, reservation, or payment records from its period of ownership, that after a reasonable and diligent inquiry, the information known or readily obtainable is insufficient to enable Defendant to admit or deny the request, that Defendant is not presently aware of any person with knowledge of facts supporting this response other than possibly the current or former owners or operators of the subject property, whose identities and contact information are unknown to Defendant as it retained no records identifying such persons, and that Defendant is not in possession, custody, or control of any document or tangible thing supporting this response. (Robinson Decl., Ex. C.) The responses provided are code-compliance, non-evasive, and sufficient.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs' request is DENIED.

d. Requests for Production

At issue are Requests for Production (RFPs) Nos. 4, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 24, 25, 26, 27, 32, 33, 34, and 36. (Sep. Statement, p. 3:5-6.) Plaintiffs assert good cause exists to compel production because the requested discovery is directly relevant to ownership, management, notice, maintenance, habitability, inspections, operational control, record retention, and allocation of responsibility among Defendants, all of which are central to Plaintiffs' claims and Defendant's defenses. (Motion, p. 8:19-22.)

In its initial response to these RFPs, Defendant objected to and refused to respond to Nos. 4, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 24, 25, 26, 27, 32, 33, 34, and 36. Defendant objected to and referenced separate discovery responses to Nos. 9, 10, and 11. Defendant did not sufficiently or substantively respond to any of the requests. For the reasons stated above, Defendant's initial objections are meritless and do not warrant non-production or failure to provide substantive response.

Defendant provided supplemental responses to all at-issue RFPs – RFPs Nos. 4, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 24, 25, 26, 27, 32, 33, 34, and 36. (Robinson Decl., ¶ 7, Ex. B.)

The Court finds the defects in Defendant's responses were sufficiently cured as to all requests for production. Defendant has provided code-compliant responses, asserting inability to comply with each individual demand as permitted by Code of Civil Procedure section 2031.210, and has affirmed that a diligent search and a reasonable inquiry has been made in an effort to comply with that demand, specified that the inability to comply is because the particular item or category has never existed or, if it has, is no longer in Defendant's possession, custody, or control, and has set forth that Defendant is unaware of any natural person or organization believed to have possession, custody, or control of any documents responsive to each request, but that to the extent any responsive documents have existed, they remained with the Property on Defendant's sale in 2021. These responses comply with Code of Civil Procedure section 2031.230 and are consistent with Defendants' responses to all other categories and requests for discovery set forth herein, grounded in the fact that Defendant has not owned the Property since 2021, did not own the Property at any time Plaintiffs claim they resided there, and did not retain any records relating to the management, operation, guests, or procedures of the Property after it was sold. The Court does not find on the circumstances presented that Defendant's contentions are unreasonable or establish bad faith in failing to produce responsive documents.

In the absence of any objection by Plaintiffs to these responses, the Court finds them code-compliant and sufficient. Therefore, Plaintiffs' request to compel further production is DENIED.

As Plaintiffs do not request sanctions and Defendant has substantially supplemented its responses without objection on the record from Plaintiffs, the Court declines to award sanctions at this time.

II. Conclusion

Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel Further Responses to Special Interrogatories is GRANTED as to Special Interrogatories Nos. 2 and 36. Plaintiffs' motion is DENIED as to Special Interrogatories Nos. 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 19, 20, 22, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 37, 39, 41, and 42. The Court does not rule on Special Interrogatory No. 21 as it was omitted from Plaintiffs' Separate Statement.

Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel Further Responses to Requests for Admission is DENIED.

Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel Further Requests for Production of Documents is DENIED.

The Court declines to impose monetary sanctions on any party at this time.
