1.	Aguilar v. TKO Farms, Inc. 22-1271286	Before the court is a motion filed by counsel Alison M. Bernal of Nye, Stirling, Hale, Miller & Sweet, LLP (Counsel) to be relieved as counsel of record for defendants TKO Farms, Inc. and Kenneth Dewayne Owen (Defendants). Counsel has substantially complied with the procedural requirements of California Rules of Court, rule 3.1362. While the proof of service shows a proposed order was served, no proposed order is reflected on the court docket. The court otherwise finds good cause to grant the relief requested on the merits. Counsel is ordered to submit a proposed order forthwith. The order granting relief is effective upon filing of a proof of service of the signed order on the client. Counsel to give notice.

2.	Bank of America, N.A. v. Gorgi 25-1478649	The motion for attorney fees filed by plaintiff Bank of America, N.A. (Plaintiff) is GRANTED. In an action to enforce a contract authorizing an award of fees and costs to one party, the party "prevailing on the contract" is entitled to reasonable fees in accordance with Civil Code section 1717. (Santisas v. Goodin (1998) 17 Cal.4th 599, 615–617; Exsess Electronixx v. Heger Realty Corp. (1998) 64 Cal.App.4th 698, 706–707.) Civil Code section 1717(a) provides that reasonable attorneys' fees shall be fixed by the court and shall be an element of the costs of suit. The court has broad authority to determine the amount of reasonable fees. (PLCM Group v. Drexler (2000) 22 Cal.4th 1084, 1095.) The court may make its determination of the value of the services rendered without the necessity of expert testimony. (Id. at 1096.) In making its determination, the court should consider a number of factors, including the nature of the litigation, its difficulty, the amount involved, the skill required in its handling, the skill employed, the attention given, the success or failure, and any other circumstances in the case. (Id.) Courts apply a lodestar method to calculate reasonable attorneys' fees. (Meister v. U.C. Regents (1998) 67 Cal.App.4th 437, 448-49.) The court determines a lodestar figure based on a careful compilation of the time spent and reasonable hourly compensation of each attorney involved. (Serrano v. Priest (1977) 20 Cal.3d 25, 48-49.) With regard to the determination of a reasonable hourly rate, the court may rely on its own knowledge and familiarity with the legal market as well as the experience, skill, and reputation of the attorney requesting fees, the difficulty or complexity of the litigation to which that skill was applied, and declarations from other attorneys regarding prevailing fees in the community and rate determinations in other cases. (Morris v. Hyundai Motor America (2019) 41 Cal.App.5th 24, 41.) Here, Plaintiff is the prevailing party as the Court granted its motion for summary judgment. Defendants Alireza A. Gorgi and Mehrnaz Farrokhi (collectively, Defendants) do not dispute Plaintiff is the prevailing party. Plaintiff may thus claim reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to the attorneys' fees provision of the subject contract. The Court finds the hourly rates requested reasonable given counsels' experience and the nature of the dispute.

The Court has reviewed the declaration of Plaintiff's counsel and the billing records provided and determines the time expended to be generally reasonable with no obvious duplication or padding. While the total amount of fees sought is substantial, the amount of time incurred is supported by counsel's detailed declaration and the detailed billing records.

Defendants argue generally that the number of hours incurred is excessive for this "simplistic" collections case. Defendants also contend the billing records contain block billing, making them objectionable. Defendants do not point to any specific time entries or evidence to support the foregoing arguments and thus have failed to meet their burden of showing any of the time billed is excessive. (Premier Medical Management Systems, Inc. v. California Ins. Guarantee Assn. (2008) 163 Cal.App.4th 550, 564.)

Defendants also contend the time entries for Ms. McMains include no description and the Court thus cannot award fees for her work. Defendants do not clearly identify which time entries they are referring to. In any event, the billing records do, indeed, include a description of the tasks performed by Ms. McMains. Defendants have not shown any time spent by McMains should be excluded.

Defendants also argue that because the billing records are heavily redacted, Plaintiff cannot meet its initial burden to establish the reasonableness of the fees sought. However, Plaintiff explained in its motion that the billing records included redactions for fees incurred in connection with Defendants' bankruptcy case, which are not being sought by Plaintiff in this motion. These redactions thus do not impact the Court's analysis of the fees sought. In addition, the redactions for attorney-client privileged information do not render the billing records so incomprehensible that the Court cannot determine the reasonableness of the fees sought. Moreover, as Plaintiff points out in the Reply, it is not necessary to provide detailed billing timesheets to support an award of attorney fees. (Sweetwater Union High School Dist. v. Julian Union Elementary School Dist. (2019) 36 Cal.App.5th 970, 994.) "Declarations of counsel setting forth the reasonable hourly rate, the number of hours worked and the tasks performed are sufficient." (Ibid.) Here, the declaration of Plaintiff's counsel provides the foregoing information and would thus be sufficient on its own to support the fees requested. (Assayag Decl., ¶¶ 12-13, 15-16.)

Based on the foregoing, the motion is GRANTED.

Plaintiff is awarded attorneys' fees in the requested sum of $46,209.50 against Defendants.

Plaintiff's request for judicial notice is GRANTED as to the existence of and legal effects of the records, but not as to the truth of any disputed facts asserted therein. (Ev. Code §452(d); Fontenot v. Wells Fargo Bank, NA (2011) 198 Cal.App.4th 256, 264; Arce v. Kaiser Foundation Health Plan, Inc. (2010) 181 Cal.App.4th 471, 482.)

		Plaintiff shall submit a proposed order and shall give notice of this ruling.
3.	Keith v. Rosario 25-1481402	The unopposed motion of plaintiffs Luke Campbell Keith, Marshaleen Keith, and Tyler Keith (collectively, Plaintiffs) for leave to file a first amended complaint is GRANTED. (Code Civ. Proc., § 473(a)(1).) Courts are bound to apply a policy of great liberality in permitting amendments to the complaint "at any stage of the proceedings, up to and including trial," absent prejudice to the adverse party. (Atkinson v. Elk Corp. (2003) 109 Cal.App.4th 739, 761.) Plaintiffs have shown the interests of justice would be served by allowing the amendment. In addition, the motion is unopposed. Accordingly, the motion is GRANTED. The First Amended Complaint is to be separately filed within 5 days of the date of this order. Counsel for Plaintiffs is ordered to give notice of this ruling.
4.	Wilmington Savings Fund Society, FSB v. Mitchell 25-1498917	The motion of plaintiff Wilmington Savings Fund Society, FSB, not in its individual capacity but solely as Owner Trustee for the FLIC Residential Mortgage Loan Trust 1 (Plaintiff) for leave to file a first amended complaint is CONTINUED TO JULY 2, 2026, AT 1:30 P.M. IN DEPARTMENT C20. The Court's files do not reflect that any opposition to this motion was filed by defendant Elvin W. L. Mitchell, Jr. (Defendant). However, it appears Defendant served Plaintiff with an opposition because, on May 29, 2026, Plaintiff filed a reply to Defendant's opposition. The Court will therefore CONTINUE the hearing on this motion as stated above so that Defendant can file the opposition with the Court. Defendant is ORDERED to file the same opposition which he previously served on Plaintiff, within 7 days of this order. Aside from the opposition, no further briefing is permitted. Counsel for Plaintiff is ordered to give notice of this ruling.
5.	Justin J.S.Morgan Law Corporation v. Wood and Delgado 25-1483376	Before the court is a motion to quash brought by Defendants Wood & Delgado, J.P. Wood Law Corporation and Wood Law Corporation as to the subpoena for records issued to Weyer, Crelling & Custer. The motion is GRANTED and the request for sanctions is DENIED, as set forth herein. The Court notes initially that the motion is defective as Defendants failed to file a Separate Statement in support of the Motion as required by CRC, rule 3.1345(a)(5). Nonetheless, the Court will address the merits.

In the instant motion, Defendants argue the subject subpoena is stayed pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure §916(a) because they have filed an appeal of the Court's January 28, 2026 order denying their special motion to strike under Code of Civil Procedure §425.16. The Order and appeal relate only to the 4th cause of action for Intentional Interference with Economic Prospects. The other three causes of action were not affected by the Court's Order.

The Court in Varian Medical Systems, Inc. v. Delfino (2005) 35 Cal.4th 180 stated that Section 916 "prevents a trial court from rendering an appeal futile by altering the appealed ... order by conducting proceedings that may affect it." (Varian Medical Systems, Inc. v. Delfino (2005) 35 Cal.4th 180, 189.) "[W]hether a matter is 'embraced' in or 'affected' by a judgment [or order] within the meaning of [section 916] depends on whether post judgment [or post order] proceedings on the matter would have any effect on the 'effectiveness' of the appeal." (Id. [citation omitted].) The "trial court shall have jurisdiction of proceedings related to ... any other matter embraced in the action and not affected by the ... order appealed from." (Id., § 916(b).)

Here, the subpoena at issue seeks a wide-ranging list of documents from the Defendants' accountant. While the documents do relate to the first three causes of action, the subpoena also seeks documents which may be relevant to plaintiffs' damages in the 4th cause of action. Further, para. 48 of the Complaint alleges the defendants have "disrupted prospective economic advantages for Morgan." Evidence of the "prospective economic advantages" may well be found in the accountant's records. Also, plaintiffs allege at paragraph 45 that the 4th cause of action is based on facts alleged in paragraphs 1-44, thus making the four causes of action based on the same facts.

As a result of the foregoing the court finds that the subject subpoena relates to facts and evidence embraced and affected by the appeal of the 4th cause of action. Because a stay exists as to such, the motion is GRANTED and the subpoena is QUASHED, without prejudice to being served upon conclusion of the appeal.

Defendants also request an award of sanctions. In making an order pursuant to a motion made under Code of Civil Procedure §1987.1, the Court "may in its discretion award the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in making or opposing the motion, including reasonable attorney's fees, if the court finds the motion was made or opposed in bad faith or without substantial justification or that one or more of the requirements of the subpoena was oppressive." (Code Civ. Proc., § 1987.2, subd. (a).)

The court does not find the opposition was made in bad faith or without substantial justification or that sanctions are otherwise warranted. Accordingly, the request for sanctions is DENIED.

		Plaintiff to give notice of this ruling which shall include notice to Weyer, Crelling & Custer.
6.	Balboa Capital Corp. v. Sasquatch Services LLC 25-1469145	(Off calendar)
7.	LVNV Funding LLC v. Gomez 21-1219223	The motion to enforce settlement filed by plaintiff LVNV Funding LLC (Plaintiff) is CONTINUED TO JULY 30, 2026, AT 1:30 P.M. IN DEPARTMENT C20. There is no proof of service filed showing defendant Jasmine Gomez (Defendant) was served with this motion. The motion is therefore CONTINUED as stated above. Plaintiff is ordered to file a proof of service showing Defendant was properly and timely served with the motion. Said proof of service shall be filed at least 5 court days prior to the hearing. Counsel for Plaintiff shall give notice.
8.	Tapia v. The Regents of the University of California 24-1446222	Before the Court is the Motion for Reconsideration and Relief from Terminating Sanctions, etc., filed on 3/17/26 by Plaintiff Melissa Tapia in her individual capacity and in her capacity as decedent Luis Recinos' successor-in-interest ("Plaintiff"). The Motion is effectively a motion for relief under C.C.P. § 473(b), based upon an attorney declaration of fault regarding discovery violations that resulted in terminating sanctions. In that context, the application for mandatory relief would be in proper form if it demonstrated that verified discovery responses had been served, for all of the outstanding discovery. (See Rodriguez v. Brill (2015) 234 Cal.App.4th 715, 729.) But Plaintiff's motion does not comply, as Plaintiff's counsel here has asserted only that compliance was anticipated. (ROA 225, Smith Decl., ¶ 19.) The Motion is therefore DENIED. Counsel for Defendant Regents of the University of California is to give notice of this ruling.
9.	Corzine v. Riemann 20-1133569	(Moot)
10.	Long v. Glyder LLC 22-1275657	Before the Court is the Motion for Monetary and Terminating Sanctions, filed on 10/21/25 by Plaintiff Chen "Peter" Cheng Long ("Plaintiff"). The Motion is DENIED. Plaintiff concedes on reply that the portion of the motion seeking terminating sanctions is now moot. However, Plaintiff continues to assert that substantial monetary sanctions should be imposed on Defendant Stuart Solkow ("Solkow") pursuant to C.C.P. §§ 128.5, 2023.010, and 2023.030. Plaintiff argues that sanctions are warranted under C.C.P. § 128.5 because Defendants engaged in misconduct by asserting meritless

		defenses. However, sanctions under §128.5 are not warranted because a defendant chose to go to trial, based on what were determined to be meritless defenses. (Triplett v. Farmers Ins. Exchange (1994) 24 Cal.App.4th 1415, 1422.) Plaintiff has not shown that sanctions under §128.5 can and should be imposed here. Plaintiff also argues that sanctions are warranted under C.C.P. §§ 2023.010 and 2023.030, for misuse of the discovery process, citing City of Los Angeles v. PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP (2024) 17 Cal.5th 46, 58-59 and Kwan Software Engineering, Inc. v. Hennings (2020) 58 Cal.App.5th 57, 77. But in both of those cases, an egregious pattern of discovery abuse was perpetrated by the plaintiff, which permeated the entire action. Here, the evidence presented suggests that on specific issues, Solkow was evasive or not fully forthcoming. But Plaintiff has not clearly shown that Solkow engaged in a pattern of egregious discovery abuse that was sufficiently substantial to warrant discovery sanctions here. The Motion is therefore DENIED. Plaintiff's Request for Judicial Notice is GRANTED under Ev. Code §452(d), as to the existence of the records. Defendants' Evidentiary Objections, filed as ROAs 1351 and 1352, are OVERRULED. Counsel for Plaintiff is to give notice of this ruling.
11.	Auto Finance Solutions, LLC v. Prestige Kia Riverside 25-1500766	A) Los Angeles Federal Credit Union 1) Demurrer Defendant Los Angeles Federal Credit Union's ("LAFCU") demurrer to Auto Finance Solutions, LLC's ("Plaintiff") First Amended Complaint ("FAC") is SUSTAINED. LAFCU demurs to causes of action ("COA") six through nine on the basis they fail to state sufficient facts. (Civ. Proc. Code § 430.10(e).) a) COA No. 6 – Conversion and Replevin "Conversion is the wrongful exercise of dominion over the property of another. The elements of a conversion claim are: (1) the plaintiff's ownership or right to possession of the property; (2) the defendant's conversion by a wrongful act or disposition of property rights; and (3) damages....[Citation omitted.]" (Lee v. Hanley (2015) 61 Cal. 4th 1225, 1240 ("Lee").) The term 'dominion' is defined by Black's as: "1. Control; possession <dominion over the car>." (DOMINION, Black's Law Dictionary (12th ed. 2024).) Plaintiff alleged it held prior recorded liens on the Vehicles by virtue of its contractual rights and possession of the original titles. (FAC ¶ 82.) Lenders exercised dominion and control of the Vehicles by accepting and recording liens thereon using fraudulent titles created by Prestige/Akbar, relying on tainted DMV records, withholding vehicles and titles from Plaintiff, receiving payments and benefits from vehicles transferred in violation of Plaintiff's rights. (FAC ¶ 83.) Plaintiff has been deprived of its rights in the vehicles and titles, lost value of collateral, and suffered monetary damages. (FAC ¶ 85.) Plaintiff seeks compensatory damages for conversion or alternatively for an immediate return of the vehicles and original certificates of title, punitive damages, and costs. (FAC ¶ 86.)

Plaintiff did not allege specific vehicle(s) which LAFCU 'converted,' nor did Plaintiff allege facts showing LAFCU has or ever had control or possession over any specific vehicle(s).

Plaintiff has not pled sufficient facts to support this COA. The demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as to this COA.

b) COA No. 7 – Quiet Title/Wrongful Lien Invalidation

"The complaint shall be verified and shall include all of the following:

- (a) A description of the property that is the subject of the action. In the case of tangible personal property, the description shall include its usual location. In the case of real property, the description shall include both its legal description and its street address or common designation, if any.
- (b) The title of the plaintiff as to which a determination under this chapter is sought and the basis of the title. If the title is based upon adverse possession, the complaint shall allege the specific facts constituting the adverse possession.
- (c) The adverse claims to the title of the plaintiff against which a determination is sought.
- (d) The date as of which the determination is sought. If the determination is sought as of a date other than the date the complaint is filed, the complaint shall include a statement of the reasons why a determination as of that date is sought.
- (e) A prayer for the determination of the title of the plaintiff against the adverse claims." [Emphasis added.] (Civ. Proc. Code § 761.020.)

Although LAFCU states that quiet title is only available in real property cases, Civ. Proc. Code § 761.020(a) specifically states it is available for the determination of rights to 'personal property' as well. (See also, Koerber v. Superior Ct. of City & Cnty. of San Francisco (1922) 57 Cal. App. 31; Indep. Iron Works v. Am. President Lines (1950) 35 Cal. 2d 858; Lloyd v. Los Angeles Cnty. (1940) 41 Cal. App. 2d 808; Boldemann Chocolate Co. v. Price (1936) 5 Cal. 2d 200.)

As a COA for quiet title can relate to personal property, which would include the subject vehicles, the motion cannot be sustained on the 'real property' argument. But, Plaintiff has not verified the FAC, has not specifically identified which vehicle(s) it is alleging quiet title against which of the subject lenders, and has not included the vehicle(s) usual location(s) as required under the code.

Plaintiff has not pled sufficient facts to support this COA. The demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as to this COA.

c) COA No. 8 – Unjust Enrichment/Constructive Trust

"Unjust enrichment is not a cause of action, however, or even a remedy, but rather "a general principle, underlying various legal doctrines and remedies" [Citation.] It is synonymous with restitution. [Citation.] [Citation.] Unjust enrichment has also been characterized as describing "the result of a failure to make restitution...." (McBride v. Boughton (2004) 123 Cal. App. 4th 379, 387 ("McBride").) "There are several potential bases for a cause of action seeking restitution. For example, restitution may be awarded in lieu of breach of contract damages when the parties had an express contract, but it was procured by fraud or is unenforceable or ineffective for some reason. (See generally 3 Witkin, Cal. Procedure (4th ed. 1996) Actions, §§ 148–150, pp. 218–220; 1 Witkin, Summary of Cal. Law (9th ed. 1987) Contracts, §§ 112, 118, pp. 137–138, 142–144.) Alternatively, restitution may be awarded where the defendant obtained a benefit from the plaintiff by fraud, duress, conversion, or similar conduct. In such cases, the plaintiff may choose not to sue in tort, but instead to seek restitution on a quasi-contract theory (an election referred to at common law as "waiving the tort and suing in assumpsit")." (McBride, supra, 123 Cal. App. 4th at 388.) "Under the law of restitution, "[a]n individual is required to make restitution if he or she is unjustly enriched at the expense of another. [Citations.] A person is enriched if the person receives a benefit at another's expense. [Citation.]" [Citation.] However, "[t]he fact that one person benefits another is not, by itself, sufficient to require restitution. The person receiving the benefit is required to make restitution only if the circumstances are such that, as between the two individuals, it is unjust for the person to retain it. [Citation.]" (McBride, supra, 123 Cal. App. 4th at 389.) "Moreover, a person otherwise entitled to restitution may lose that entitlement if "restitution would seriously impair the protection intended to be afforded by common law or by statute to persons in the position of the transferee or of the beneficiary, or to other persons." (Rest., Restitution, § 62, p. 241.)" (McBride, supra, 123 Cal. App. 4th at 389.)

"In such circumstances, restitution is required "only if the following three conditions are met: [¶] (a) Liability in restitution may not subject the defendant to a forced exchange This condition is likely to be satisfied if the benefit realized by the defendant [¶] ... [¶] ... saves the defendant an otherwise necessary expense [¶] (b) Absent liability in restitution, the claimant will not be compensated for the performance in question, and the defendant will retain the benefit of the claimant's performance free of any liability to pay for it. [¶] (c) Liability in restitution will not subject the defendant to an obligation from which it was understood by the parties that the defendant would be free." (§ 25, subd. (2), p. 368, citation omitted.)" (Pro. Tax Appeal

v. Kennedy-Wilson Holdings, Inc. (2018) 29 Cal. App. 5th 230, 239 (“Pro. Tax”).)

“ “[A] bona fide purchaser is generally not required to make restitution.” [Citation.] But, “[a] transferee with knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the unjust enrichment may be obligated to make restitution.” ” (“Pro. Tax, supra, 29 Cal. App. 5th at 241.)

Plaintiff alleges Lenders received payment, proceeds, or other benefits from vehicles which Plaintiff held superior rights in. (FAC ¶ 94.) Lenders accepted the benefits by accepting and relying on fraudulent, counterfeit, or manipulated titles created and submitted by Prestige/Akbar. (FAC ¶¶ 30, 95.) The Lender’s interests are tainted by fraud and manipulation of titles and DMV records. (FAC ¶ 31.)

Plaintiff failed to identify any specific vehicle(s) purchased by, controlled by, or possessed by LAFCU. Plaintiff failed to allege any benefit Plaintiff provided to LAFCU, or any benefit LAFCU received due to any performance, service, or actions by Plaintiff. Instead, Plaintiff alleges Lenders received or continue to receive payments from non-party purchasers under LAFCU’s direct contracts with the purchasers. (FAC ¶ 32.) Plaintiff also stated that it does not allege Lenders participated in the creation or manipulation of title records and fraudulent titles. (FAC ¶¶ 94-95, 99.) Plaintiff made no allegations that LAFCU and the other lenders were aware of the fraudulent title records or how they would have been aware as they were not the purchasers of the subject vehicles.

Plaintiff has not pled sufficient facts to support this COA. The demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as to this COA.

d) COA No. 9 – Commercial Reasonableness/Negligence

There is no COA for ‘commercial reasonableness’ and Plaintiff does not cite to any statute of case which states otherwise.

“The elements of a cause of action for negligence are well established. They are ‘(a) a legal duty to use due care; (b) a breach of such legal duty; [and] (c) the breach as the proximate or legal cause of the resulting injury.’ ” (Ladd v. Cty. of San Mateo (1996) 12 Cal. 4th 913, 917.) “[T]he existence of a duty is a question of law for the court.” (Kentucky Fried Chicken of Cal., Inc. v. Superior Court (1997) 14 Cal. 4th 814, 819.)

LAFCU argues there was no duty owed to Plaintiff, and Plaintiff has not alleged one. The matter cited by Plaintiff, Quartz of Southern California, Inc. v. Mullen Bros., Inc. (2007) 151 Cal. App. 4th 901, involved a cross-complaint with a negligent misrepresentation claim against a third party and not between the plaintiff and the defendant. Although there is discussion of commercial reasonableness in that case, it was in relation to a declaratory relief cause of action wherein the court determined the actions of taking a vehicle without the title were not commercially reasonable.

Here, Plaintiff alleged Lenders relied upon fraudulent documents which Lenders had no hand in creating. (FAC ¶ 99.) Plaintiff alleged Lenders ignored clear red flags, failed to conduct due diligence, and relied upon DMV records what were the product of fraud, manipulation, or statutory noncompliance. (FAC ¶ 100.) Lenders allegedly failed to inquire into the true chain of title or circumstances of the transfers. Lenders recorded liens based on these documents despite Plaintiff having the originals. (FAC ¶ 101.)

Even if there were a cause of action for 'commercial reasonableness,' which there does not appear to be, Plaintiff has only pled legal conclusions regarding LAFCU and the other lenders' reasonableness and has actually pled facts that support the lenders and the DMV were unaware the titles were fraudulent, which would suggest the non-party purchasers were bona fide purchasers of value for the subject vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff has only alleged economic damages. "In general, there is no recovery in tort for negligently inflicted 'purely economic losses,' meaning financial harm unaccompanied by physical or property damage." (Rattagan v. Uber Techs., Inc. (2024) 17 Cal. 5th 1, 20.) As there are only allegations of economic damages, there cannot be a COA for negligence.

Plaintiff has not pled sufficient facts to support this COA. The demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as to this COA.

2) Motion to Strike

LAFCU's motion to strike portions of the FAC is GRANTED in part and DENIED in part.

LAFCU moves to strike the following portions of the FAC pursuant to Civ. Proc. Code §§ 435 and 436(a):

- Paragraph 86(c) claim for punitive damages and exemplary damages;
- Paragraph 92 claim for attorney fees;
- The words reasonable attorney fees in item 11 of the Prayer;
- The words post-judgment interest in item 12 of the Prayer;
- The words pre-judgment interest in item 12 of the Prayer.

Plaintiff does not oppose the motion regarding the first three items as to LAFCU alone. (Opposition p. 2:3-6.) Plaintiff does seek punitive damages and attorney fees against defendants Prestige Kia Riverside dba Prestige Autos ("Prestige") and Khalid Mohammed Akbar ("Akbar"). FAC ¶ 86c seeks punitive damages under the COA for conversion, which is pled only against the lender defendants (Lenders). Even if the Prayer only seeks punitive damages against Prestige/Akbar, FAC ¶ 86c still requests punitive damages against the Lenders. Plaintiff has alleged no facts supporting malice, oppression, or fraud on the part of the Lenders (Civ. Code § 3294) to support punitive damages. There are also no allegations of contracts between Plaintiff and Lenders or any statement of code section that would permit Plaintiff to recover attorney fees from Lenders. The motion is GRANTED as to the first three items.

LAFCU argues post-judgment interest is improper as no judgment has been entered against LAFCU. However, post-judgment interest is permitted by law upon entry of judgment. The inclusion of a prayer for relief for post-judgment interest is proper even if it has not accrued. The motion is DENIED as to post-judgment interest.

As to prejudgment interest, there are no allegations of a specific amount owed to Plaintiff by LAFCU. "" 'Damages are deemed certain or capable of being made certain within the provisions of CC section 3287(a) where there is essentially no dispute between the parties concerning the basis of computation of damages if any are recoverable but where their dispute centers on the issue of liability giving rise to damage.' [Citations]." [Citation.] Thus, "" "[t]he test for recovery of prejudgment interest under [Civil Code] section 3287, subdivision (a) is whether defendant actually know[s] the amount owed or from reasonably available information could the defendant have computed that amount. [Citation.]" [Citations.] "The statute ... does not authorize prejudgment interest where the amount of damage, as opposed to the determination of liability, 'depends upon a judicial determination based upon conflicting evidence and it is not ascertainable from truthful data supplied by the claimant to his debtor.' The motion is GRANTED as to pre-judgment interest.

B) SchoolsFirst Federal Credit Union

1) Demurrer

Defendant SchoolsFirst Federal Credit Union ("Schools") demurrer to the FAC is SUSTAINED.

Schools demurs to COA Nos. 5-9 based on failure to state a COA and a defect/misjoinder of parties. (Civ. Proc. Code § 430.10(d) and (e).)

As to COA numbers six through nine, the demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as noted in the LAFCU ruling above.

At to COA number five for declaratory relief, the demurrer is also SUSTAINED with leave to amend as discussed below.

"To qualify for declaratory relief, [a party] would have to demonstrate its action presented two essential elements: '(1) a proper subject of declaratory relief, and (2) an actual controversy involving justiciable questions relating to [the party's] rights or obligations.' "" (Jolley v. Chase Home Fin., LLC (2013) 213 Cal. App. 4th 872, 909.)

"Declaratory relief generally operates prospectively to declare future rights, rather than to redress past wrongs." [Emphasis added.] Id. "A complaint for declaratory relief is legally sufficient if it sets forth facts showing the existence of an actual controversy relating to the legal rights and duties of the respective parties under a written instrument and requests that these rights and duties be adjudged by the court." (Maguire v. Hibernia Sav. & Loan Soc. (1944) 23 Cal. 2d 719, 728.) "The purpose of a declaratory judgment is "to serve some practical end in quieting or stabilizing an uncertain or disputed jural relation."" (Id., at 729.) "Unlike coercive relief (such as damages, specific performance, or an injunction) in which a party is ordered by the court to do or to refrain from doing something, a declaratory judgment merely declares the legal relationship between the parties." (Mycogen Corp. v. Monsanto Co. (2002) 28 Cal. 4th 888, 898.)

Plaintiff alleges there is an existing controversy between Plaintiff and Lenders concerning the rights and interests in the disputed vehicles, titles of the vehicles, and proceeds derived from the sale. (FAC ¶ 72.) Plaintiff states it is in possession of the original and legitimate title certificates and holds superior rights in the vehicles. (FAC ¶¶ 73-74.) The conflicting claims and titles create uncertainty as to the validity, priority, and enforceability of Plaintiff's security interest and the rights of the Lenders. (FAC ¶¶ 75-76.) A judicial determination of the rights and duties of the parties is necessary. (FAC ¶ 77.)

Schools argues the Commercial Code and Vehicle Code extinguished Plaintiff's interest in the subject vehicles once the vehicles were purchased in the ordinary course of business. (Comm. Code §§ 1201(a)(9) and 9320(a).) Further, "[t]he interest of a bona fide purchaser of a vehicle subject to registration under the Vehicle Code prevails over a technically perfected security interest which is not disclosed on the certificate of ownership." (T & O Mobile Homes, Inc. v. United California Bank (1985) 40 Cal. 3d 441, 455.)

Schools argues this is an issue that can be determined at the demurrer stage. "Generally, questions of reasonableness are regarded as questions of fact or mixed questions of law and fact. (See Schwartz v. Helms Bakery Limited (1967) 67 Cal.2d 232, 237, fn. 3, 60 Cal.Rptr. 510, 430 P.2d 68 [in the tort context, reasonableness is a mixed question of law and fact traditionally answered by juries].) Similarly, "courts generally treat commercial reasonableness as a question of factual determination for the jury, although some courts view it as a mixed question of law and fact." (Abyad, Commercial Reasonableness in Karl Llewellyn's Uniform Commercial Code Jurisprudence, supra, 83 Va. L.Rev. at p. 451, fns. omitted.) In addition, "the question whether a buyer is in the ordinary course of business is indeed one of fact for purposes of appellate review." "" (Brasher's Cascade Auto Auction v. Valley Auto Sales & Leasing (2004) 119 Cal. App. 4th 1038, 1059.)

However, as noted by Schools, the purchasers of the subject vehicles are not parties to this action. It appears that they may need to be added to determine whether they were bona fide purchasers for value and whether their interests in the subject vehicles and/or payments is valid. The demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as to this COA. 2) Motion to Strike Schools’ motion to strike portions of the FAC is GRANTED in part and DENIED in part as noted in the ruling on LAFCU above. C) Navy Federal Credit Union Defendant Navy Federal Credit Union’s (“Navy”) demurrer to the FAC is SUSTAINED. As to COA numbers six through nine, the demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as noted in the LAFCU ruling above. As to COA number five, the demurrer is SUSTAINED with leave to amend as noted in the Schools ruling above. The court will also note that while Navy argues this COA is derivative of the other COA, Plaintiff is permitted to plead in the alternative (Mendoza v. Cont’l Sales Co. (2006) 140 Cal. App. 4th 1395, 1402) even though Plaintiff has failed to plead sufficient facts to support this COA. Plaintiff is granted leave to file an amended complaint within 10 days of written notice of the ruling. LAFCU to give notice.
