

“Civility allows for zealous representation, reduces clients’ costs, better advances clients’ interests, reduces stress, increases professional satisfaction, and promotes effective conflict resolution.” -- OCBA Civility Guidelines

Superior Court of the State of California
County of Orange
TENTATIVE RULINGS FOR DEPARTMENT N14
HON. JULIANNE SARTAIN BANCROFT

Date: Monday, August 17, 2026, 9:00 a.m.

- All counsel and self-represented parties appearing for such hearings should check-in online through the Court's civil video appearance website at <https://www.occourts.org/media-relations/civil.html> prior to the commencement of their hearing. Once the online check-in is completed, participants will be prompted to join the courtroom’s Zoom hearing session. Check-in instructions and an instructional video are available on the court’s website. A party choosing to appear in person can do so by appearing in the courtroom on the date/time of the initial appearance. All hearings are open to the public. The courtroom doors are open.
- You must provide your own court reporter (unless you have a fee waiver and request one in advance).
- Call the other side and ask if they will submit to the tentative ruling. If everyone submits, then call the clerk. The tentative ruling will become the order. If anyone does not submit, there is no need to call the clerk. The court will hold a hearing. The court may rule differently at the hearing. (See Lewis v. Fletcher Jones Motor Cars, Inc. (2012) 205 Cal.App.4th 436, 442, fn. 1.)

| #   | Case Name                                                        | Tentative Ruling                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|-----|------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 101 | Aguilera vs. Diversified Maintenance Systems, LLC, 2025-01528656 | Demurrer to Amended Complaint – OVERRULED Defendant B. BRAUN MEDICAL INC. demurs to all causes of action in Plaintiff’s first amended complaint. The demurrer is overruled. There are sufficient facts pled to put Defendant on notice of the claims against it, including allegations of being a “joint employer”. Plaintiff shall answer the first amended complaint within 20 days. Plaintiff to give notice.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 102 | Ascher & Associates, P.C. vs. Boyajian, 2024-01447465            | Demurrer to Complaint – SUSTAINED WITHOUT LEAVE TO AMEND Defendant, Robert Boyajian, as personal representative of the Estate of Layla Boyajian (“Defendant”), demurs to the Complaint for Declaratory Relief and Enforcement of Attorney Lien of Plaintiff, Ascher &amp; Associates, P.C. (“Plaintiff” or “AAPC”). The demurrer to the Complaint is SUSTAINED, without leave to amend. Res Judicata “[I]f all of the facts necessary to establish that an action is barred on res judicata grounds appear on the face of the complaint, the complaint is subject to demurrer.” (Brosterhous v. State Bar (1995) 12 Cal.4th 315, 324.) A demurrer can only be used to challenge defects that appear on the face of the pleading or from matters outside the pleading that are judicially noticeable. (Blank v. Kirwan (1985) 39 Cal.3d 311, 318.) No other extrinsic evidence can be considered. (Ion Equip. Corp. v. Nelson (1980) 110 Cal.App.3d 868, 881.) The doctrine of res judicata has two aspects: claim preclusion and /issue preclusion/collateral estoppel. (People v. Barragan (2004) 32 Cal.4th 236, 252.) “Claim preclusion ‘prevents relitigation of the same cause of action in a second suit between the same parties or parties in privity with them.’ [Citation.] Claim preclusion arises if a second suit involves: (1) the same cause of action (2) between the same parties (3) after a |

final judgment on the merits in the first suit. [Citations.]” (DKN Holdings LLC v. Faerber (2015) 61 Cal.4th 813, 824.) “If claim preclusion is established, it operates to bar relitigation of the claim altogether.” (Ibid.)

Here, the bankruptcy court orders attached to Defendant’s request for judicial notice establish that the claim for declaratory relief in this action seeking the existence and enforceability of AAPC’s liens pursuant to its two Family Law Attorney’s Real Property Liens (the “FLAPRLs”) are identical to what was previously litigated and adjudicated in Defendant’s Chapter 11 bankruptcy case filed on February 14, 2014 entitled In re Robert Boyajian, Case No. 8:14-bk-10918-ES (the “Bankruptcy Action”); Bankruptcy Action. (See Exs. 1-2 to Defendant’s Request for Judicial Notice.) Plaintiff also concedes that the two of the three elements of res judicata are met, i.e., same cause of action and final judgment.

Plaintiff argues that claim preclusion does not apply because the two actions involved different parties and there is no privity between them. Plaintiff argues that in the bankruptcy action, the debtor was Robert Boyajian in his individual capacity as the reorganized debtor, and in this case the defendant is Robert Boyajian in his capacity as the personal representative and administrator of the Layla Boyajian probate estate. Plaintiff argues that its claim is against Layla Boyajian’s probate estate, and not against Robert Boyajian individually. Plaintiff also argues that Layla Boyajian and Robert Boyajian are not in privity with each other.

Layla Boyajian was the co-owner of the real property she pledged as security for the FLARPLs and had a “direct financial stake in the outcome of the reorganization.” She was therefore an interested party in the Bankruptcy Action, and the Bankruptcy Court necessarily determined property rights belonging to Layla and, by extension, her estate. Defendant argues that Plaintiff overlooks the in rem nature of the bankruptcy proceedings, and that the Bankruptcy Court’s order determined the existence and validity of Plaintiff’s alleged lien interests in specific property (the Inn) and its sale proceeds, and that order is binding on all persons claiming an interest in that property.

11 U.S.C.A. § 1109(b) states: “A party in interest, including the debtor, the trustee, a creditors' committee, an equity security holders' committee, a creditor, an equity security holder, or any indenture trustee, may raise and may appear and be heard on any issue in a case under this chapter.” (11 U.S.C.A. § 1109(b).) A “party in interest” is one who may financial responsibility for a bankruptcy claim. (Truck Ins. Exchange v. Kaiser Gypsum Company, Inc. (2024) 602 U.S. 268, 271.)

Here, Layla Boyajian was an interested party in the Bankruptcy Action. The present action involves the same parties or party in privity with a party in the Bankruptcy Action as Robert Boyajian is defendant here as a personal representative and administrator of the Estate of Layla Boyajian. The demurrer to the Complaint is SUSTAINED, without leave to amend on the ground that it is barred by the doctrine of claim preclusion.

Statute of Limitations

“A general demurrer based on the statute of limitations is only permissible where the dates alleged in the complaint show that the action is barred by the statute of limitations.” (Roman v. County of Los Angeles (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 316, 324.) “The running of the statute must appear ‘clearly and affirmatively’ from the dates alleged. It is not sufficient that the complaint might be barred. [Citation.] If the dates establishing the running of the statute of limitations do not clearly appear in the complaint, there is no ground for general demurrer.” (Id. at pp. 324-325.)

Code of Civil Procedure section 366.2 states, in part: “If a person against whom an action may be brought on a liability of the person, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, and whether accrued or not accrued, dies before the expiration of the applicable limitations period, and the cause of action survives, an action may be commenced within one year after the date of death, and the limitations period that would have been applicable does not apply.” (Code Civ. Proc. § 366.2(a).) The limitations period for commencement of an action may be tolled pursuant to “Part 4 (commencing with Section 9000) of Division 7 of the Probate Code (creditor claims in administration of estates of decedents).” (Code Civ. Proc. § 366.2(b)(2).)

Probate Code section 9352 states, in part: “The filing of a claim or a petition under Section 9103 to file a claim tolls the statute of limitations otherwise applicable to the claim until allowance, approval, or rejection.” (Prob. Code § 9352(a).)

Layla Boyajian died on December 17, 2020. (Ex. 5 to Defendant’s RJN.) Therefore, an action may have been commenced until December 17, 2021, and the one-year limitation period could be tolled if a claim or petition was filed during that time. Plaintiff filed a creditor’s claim on June 16, 2023, well after the one-year statute of limitations already expired. Plaintiff’s instant action was filed on December 16, 2024, and there was no tolling. The demurrer to the Complaint is SUSTAINED, without leave to amend, on the independent ground that it is barred by the statute of limitations.

To the extent Plaintiff argues that some sort of notice was required to have been given but was not, Plaintiff cites to no authority providing that it must receive notice of the date of death, or be given notice of administration or issuance of general letters in order to trigger the statute of limitations under Code of Civil Procedure section 366.2. The Court may treat an argument as waived where no legal authority supporting the argument is cited. (Hood v. Gonzales (2019) 43 Cal.App.5th 57, 73-74.) The court is not required to examine undeveloped claims or to supply arguments for the litigants. (See Maral v. City of Live Oak (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 975, 984-985; Mansell v. Board of Administration (1994) 30 Cal.App.4th 539, 546; see also Benach v. County of Los Angeles (2007) 149 Cal.App.4th 836, 852 [holding that failure to make reasoned legal argument forfeits claim].)

|     |                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|-----|---------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|     |                                             | Defendant's request for attorney's fees is not properly made by way of this demurrer. The request is DENIED, without prejudice. The Court GRANTS Defendant's requests for judicial notice. Defendant is ORDERED to prepare and submit proposed judgment of dismissal. Defendant to give notice.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 103 | Beasley vs. Soheil, 2024-01411587           | Motions to be Relieved as Counsel – GRANTED Samuel Ogbogu ("Moving Attorney") moves to be relieved as counsel of record for plaintiffs Rodney Nelson and Pamela Freeman. The motions are unopposed and Moving Attorney has stated a basis for permissive withdrawal under the Rules of Professional Conduct, Rule 1.16. All other requirements have been satisfied. Thus, the motions are GRANTED. The order relieving counsel will be effective upon counsel filing proof of service of a copy of the signed order on the client and on all parties that have appeared in the case. (Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.1362(e).) Moving Attorney to give notice. |
| 104 | Chrisman vs. Norm Reeves Inc, 2025-01532240 | Motion for Leave to File a Cross-complaint – GRANTED Defendant Wuerer Family Partnership ("Defendant") moves for an order granting it leave to file a cross-complaint against Norm Reeves, Inc. and Coastal Auto Sales, Inc., dba Norm Reeves Honda Superstore Huntington Beach. No opposition has been filed. Defendant's proposed cross-complaint includes causes of action for express and implied indemnity, declaratory relief and apportionment of fault. Defendant owns the subject property underlying plaintiff's action and leases the property to the proposed cross-defendants. The                                                                                  |

|     |                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|-----|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|     |                                                        | proposed cross-complaint alleges that the proposed cross-defendants have a contractual duty to maintain the subject property pursuant to the lease between the parties. Defendant argues that the cross-complaint will allow a complete determination of this controversy in one action and permit a fair trial of the issues. Code of Civil Procedure section 428.10(b) provides that a defendant may file a cross-complaint if the cause of action asserted: “(1) arises out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences as the cause brought against him or (2) asserts a claim, right, or interest in the property or controversy which is the subject of the cause brought against him.” If such a cross-complaint is not filed at the same time as the defendant’s answer or before the court sets the first trial date, leave to file is required. (Id. § 428.50(a)-(b).) Leave to file may be granted “in the interest of justice at any time during the course of the action.” (Id. § 428.50(c).) The proposed cross-complaint would not add any new parties to the action and granting leave to amend would not pose any prejudice to any party. Thus, the unopposed Motion for Leave to File Cross-Complaint is GRANTED. Defendant is ordered to file and serve the cross-complaint within 10 days. Moving party to give notice. |
| 105 | Izaguirre vs. Nissan North America, Inc, 2024-01429431 | Motions to be Relieved as Counsel – GRANTED Prestige Legal Solutions, PC (“Moving Attorney”) moves to be relieved as counsel of record for (1) Plaintiff Gregorio Izaguirre and (2) Plaintiff Marubia Hermoso Ramirez. The motions are unopposed. Moving Attorney has stated a basis for permissive withdrawal under Rules of Professional Conduct, Rule 1.16. The motions satisfy the notice, declaration, and proposed order requirements of Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.1362. The motions are GRANTED. The orders relieving counsel will be effective upon counsel filing proof of service of a copy of the signed order on the client and on                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |

|            |                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|            |                                                                  | all parties that have appeared in the case. (Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.1362(e).) Moving Attorney to give notice.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 106 | Palos vs. La Habra Unified School District, 2025-01511238 | Motion to Strike Portions of Complaint – DENIED Defendant, La Habra City School District (“Defendant”), moves for an order striking all references to attorney’s fees and costs at paragraph 78, page 15, lines 1 through 3 of the Second Amended Complaint of Plaintiff, Ian Palos, a minor, by and through his Guardian ad Litem, Salem Palos (“Plaintiff”). The motion to strike is DENIED. Under Code of Civil Procedure section 436, the court may, upon a motion or at any time in its discretion, and upon terms it deems proper, strike out “...any irrelevant, false, or improper matter inserted in any pleading” or “all or any part of any pleading not drawn or filed in conformity with the laws of this state, a court rule, or an order of the court.” (Code Civ. Proc. § 436(a)-(b); See Quiroz v. Seventh Ave. Ctr. (2006) 140 Cal.App.4th 1256, 1281.) Irrelevant matters include allegations not essential to a claim or defense, allegations not pertinent to nor supported by a sufficient claim or defense, or requesting relief not supported by the allegations of the complaint or cross-complaint. (Code Civ. Proc. § 431.10(b).) Defendant claims the allegations of the second amended complaint seeking attorney fees and costs are not supported by the claims for relief, and are therefore irrelevant. Paragraph 78 of the ninth cause of action for violation of Government Code section 11135 states: “As a proximate result of the acts and omissions of Defendants, and each of them, as described herein, Plaintiff is entitled to Plaintiff’s reasonable attorney’s fees, Plaintiff’s costs of suit incurred herein, and such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.” |

“[E]ach party to a lawsuit is responsible for his or her own attorney’s fees in the absence of an agreement between the parties for fees or a statute specifically authorizing fees. [Citations.]” (Pederson v. Kennedy (1982) 128 Cal.App.3d 976, 979.) Under Code of Civil Procedure section 1032, attorney’s fees are recoverable as costs when authorized by contract, statute or law. (Code Civ. Proc. § 1033.5(a)(10)(A)-(C).)

Plaintiff does not dispute that Government Code section 11135 does not reference or authorize attorney’s fees, and cites to no authority supporting that attorney’s fees are authorized by Government Code section 11135. Instead, Plaintiff appears to rely upon Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5. The Second Amended Complaint makes no claim for attorney’s fees under Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5, but there is no requirement that a claim for attorney’s fees under Section 1021.5 must be pled in the complaint.

“ ‘There is no requirement that the intent to seek attorney fees under section 1021.5 must be pleaded in the underlying action. [Citation.] Such fees are not part of the underlying cause of action, but are incidents to the cause and are properly awarded after entry of a . . . judgment[.]’ [Citation.]” (Snatchko v. Westfield LLC (2010) 187 Cal.App.4th 469, 497 [finding that trial court erred in striking plaintiff’s prayer for attorney fees under Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5 based on a failure to adequately plead their basis, and that plaintiff’s failure to reallege his request for fees in his first amended complaint did not waive or forfeit his ability to seek them at the conclusion of his case since there was no requirement that they be pled at all].)

Additionally, the “preliminary consideration under section 1021.5 is the plaintiff’s success.” (Vargas v. City of Salinas (2011) 200 Cal.App.4th 1331, 1339.) Since the plaintiff’s success cannot be assessed until after judgment, a motion to strike attorney’s fees under Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5 appears premature.

Defendant to file an Answer within 20 days.

|     |                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-----|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 107 | Sanderson J. Ray Apartments Property, LLC vs. SLR California Constructions, LLC, 2024-01418621 | Motion to Appear Pro Hac Vice – GRANTED Moving attorney Christopher C. Broughton’s application to appear pro hac vice for Plaintiff Sanderson J. Ray Apartments Property, LLC is GRANTED. The application and supporting documents demonstrate that all requirements of California Rules of Court, Rule 9.40 are satisfied. Plaintiff to give notice.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 108 | Security National Insurance Company vs. O. C. Services Inc., 2020-01164470                     | Motions to be Relieved as Counsel – GRANTED Aaron C. Watts (“Moving Attorney”) moves to be relieved as counsel of record for (1) Defendant O.C. Services Inc. and (2) Defendant S &amp; C Inc. The motions are unopposed. Moving Attorney has stated a basis for permissive withdrawal under Rules of Professional Conduct, Rule 1.16. The motion satisfies the notice, declaration, and proposed order requirements of Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.1362. The motions are GRANTED. The orders relieving counsel will be effective upon counsel filing proof of service of a copy of the signed orders on the client and on all parties that have appeared in the case. (Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 3.1362(e).) The Court will interlineate Par. 7 of the Order with the next scheduled hearing date in this action: September 14, 2026 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept N14, Motion for Entry of Judgment and OSC re: Dismissal Moving Attorney to give notice. |
| 109 | Valdivia vs. Diversified Maintenance Systems, LLC, 2025-01528658                               | Demurrer to Amended Complaint – OVERRULED IN PART AND SUSTAINED IN PART Defendant B. BRAUN MEDICAL INC. demurs to all causes of action in Plaintiff’s first amended complaint. The demurrer is overruled as to the 1st through 4th causes of action. There are sufficient facts pled to put                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

|            |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|------------|--|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|            |  | Defendant on notice of the claims against it, including allegations of being a “joint employer”. The demurrer to the 5th cause of action is sustained as outside the scope of the previous order sustaining the original complaint with leave to amend. Leave to add a new cause of action must be by separate motion. Plaintiff shall answer the first amended complaint within 20 days. Plaintiff to give notice. |
| 110 |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 111 |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 112 |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 113 |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 114 |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |