

Superior Court of the State of California
County of Orange

TENTATIVE RULINGS
DEPARTMENT C27
JUDGE BRADLEY ERDOSI

LAW AND MOTION IS HEARD ON MONDAYS AT 2:00 P.M.

Tentative Rulings: The Court endeavors to post tentative rulings on the Court's website by 10:00 a.m. on the date of the afternoon hearing. However, ongoing proceedings or other pressing matters may delay the posting of tentative rulings. Additionally, tentative rulings may not be posted in every case. Please do not call the department for tentative rulings if tentative rulings have not been posted. The Court will not entertain a request to continue a hearing or the filing of further documents once a tentative ruling has been posted.

Submitting on Tentative Rulings: If all counsel intend to submit on the Court's tentative ruling and do not desire oral argument, please advise the Courtroom Clerk or Courtroom Attendant by calling (657) 622-5227. Please do not call the department unless all parties submit on the tentative ruling. If all sides submit on the Court's tentative ruling and so advise the Court, the tentative ruling will become the Court's final ruling and the prevailing party is ordered to give notice of the ruling and prepare an order for the Court's signature, if appropriate, under Cal. R. Ct. 3.1312.

Court Reporters: Official court reporters (i.e., court reporters employed by the Court) are not typically provided for law and motion matters in this Department. If a party desires a record of a law and motion proceeding, it is the party's responsibility to provide a court reporter.

Parties must comply with the Court's policy on the use of privately retained court reporters, which can be found by accessing the following link:

https://www.occourts.org/system/files?file=privately\_retained\_court\_reporter\_policy.pdf

Additional information about the availability of court reporters can be found at:
<https://www.occourts.org/divisions/court-reporter-services/availability-court-reporters>

Non-Appearances: If no one appears for the hearing and the Court has not been notified that all parties submit on the tentative ruling, the Court shall determine whether the matter is taken off calendar or the tentative ruling becomes the final ruling. The Court also may make a different order at the hearing. (Lewis v. Fletcher Jones Motor Cars, Inc. (2012) 205 Cal.App.4th 436, 442, fn. 1.)

Appearances: Department C27 conducts non-evidentiary proceedings, such as law and motion, remotely, by Zoom videoconference pursuant to CCP §367.75 and Orange County Local Rule (OCLR) 375. All counsel and self-represented parties appearing for such hearings must check-in online through the Court's civil video appearance website at <https://www.occourts.org/civil-remote-hearings> prior to the commencement of their hearing. Once the online check-in is completed, participants will be prompted to join the courtroom's Zoom hearing session. The Court's policies and procedures, including Guidelines for Remote Proceedings are available at <https://www.occourts.org/general-information/news-events/covid-19-response/civil-covid-19-response> and will be strictly enforced. A helpful video detailing how to check-in and appear by video can be found at <https://www.youtube.com/embed/CU090y2oaWM?rel=0&autoplay=1>.

Public Access: The courtroom remains open for all evidentiary and non-evidentiary proceedings.

No filming, broadcasting, photography, or electronic recording is permitted of the video session pursuant to California Rules of Court, rule 1.150 and OCLR 180.

TENTATIVE RULINGS

May 18, 2026

|     | Case Name                                                                                                                                                                                         | Tentative                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|-----|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 101 | 2025-01462600Jennifer Broomalas SuccessorTrustee of theCBR/KMB Family1999 Trust - TrustA vs. CaliforniaDepartment ofFinancialProtection andInnovation | 1. Demurrer to Amended Complaint 2. Case Management Conference The general demurrer by Defendant California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation (“DFPI”) to the first and second causes of action alleged in the Verified Second Amended Complaint (“SAC”) filed by Plaintiff Jennifer L. Broomall as successor trustee of the CBR/KMB Family 1999 Trust – Trust A (“Plaintiff”) is overruled in part and sustained in part with leave to amend. As an initial matter, the Court notes DFPI did not serve the notice of demurrer, supporting papers, and reply on all defendants who have appeared. In addition, Plaintiff did not file a proof of service showing Plaintiff’s opposition was properly and timely served. DFPI served and filed a timely reply without objecting to service of Plaintiff’s opposition. The Court exercises its discretion to consider the merits of all papers submitted in support and opposition to this demurrer. (Caruthers Bldg. Co. v. Johnson (1916) 174 Cal. 20, 24 [“The failure to serve a given party will not deprive the court of jurisdiction to grant the motion in so far as it can be granted without affecting the rights of the party not served.”].) DFPI’s unopposed requests for the Court to take judicial notice of DFPI’s records and orders is granted. (Evid. Code, § 452, subd. (c); see, Fowler v. Howell (1996) 42 Cal.App.4th 1746, 1749; see also, Ascherman v. General Reinsurance Corp (1986) 183 Cal.App.3d 307, 312.) First cause of action for negligence Plaintiff alleges DFPI is an agency of the State of California. (SAC, ¶ 2.) A public entity “includes the state...a county, city, district, public authority, public agency, and any other political subdivision or public corporation in the State.” (Gov. Code, § 811.2.) A public entity is not liable for an injury except as otherwise provided by statute. (Gov. Code, § 815, subd. (a).) Direct tort liability of public entities “must be based on a specific statute declaring them to be liable, or at least creating some specific duty of care, and not on the general tort provisions of Civil Code section 1714. Otherwise, the general rule of immunity for public entities would be largely eroded by the routine application of general tort principles.” (Eastburn v. Regional Fire Authority (2003) 31 Cal.4th 1175, 1183.) To state a cause of action against a public entity, “every fact essential to the existence of statutory liability must be pleaded with particularity, including the existence of a statutory duty...Duty cannot be alleged simply by stating ‘defendant had a duty under the law’; that is a conclusion of law, not an allegation of fact. The facts showing the existence of the claimed duty must be alleged...Since the duty of a governmental agency can only be created by statute or ‘enactment,’ the statute or ‘enactment’ claimed to establish the duty must at the very least be identified.” (Searcy v. Hemet Unified School Dist. (1986) 177 Cal.App.3d 792, 802; see, Lopez v. Southern Cal. Rapid Transit Dist. (1985) 40 Cal.3d 780, 795 [Under the Government Tort Claims Act, “all governmental tort liability is based on statute” and “statutory causes of action must be pleaded with particularity.”].) |

Although Plaintiff identifies nine statutes in Plaintiff's opposition, Plaintiff did not identify any statutes in the SAC.

A public entity "is liable for injury proximately caused by an act or omission of an employee of the public entity within the scope of his employment if the act or omission would, apart from this section, have given rise to a cause of action against that employee or his personal representative." (Gov. Code, § 815.2, subd. (a).) "Except as otherwise provided by statute (including Section 820.2), a public employee is liable for injury caused by his act or omission to the same extent as a private person." (Gov. Code, § 820, subd. (a).) However, except as otherwise provided by statute, a public entity is not liable for an injury resulting from an act or omission of an employee of the public entity where the employee is immune from liability. (Gov. Code, § 815.2, subd. (b).) "Except as otherwise provided by statute, a public employee is not liable for an injury resulting from his act or omission where the act or omission was the result of the exercise of the discretion vested in him, whether or not such discretion be abused." (Id., § 820.2.)

The elements of a negligence cause of action are: (a) a legal duty to use due care; (b) a breach of such legal duty; and (c) the breach as the proximate or legal cause of the resulting injury. (Ladd v. County of San Mateo (1996) 12 Cal.4th 913, 917.)

Plaintiff alleges Suzuki was negligent in ordering the misappropriation of escrow depositor's funds by instructing FVE to withdraw $500,000 of FVE's depositors'/buyers' purchase money out of FVE's trust account and deposit it into Integrity's trust account. (SAC, ¶¶ 66 and 68.) However, Suzuki's letter did not instruct Nguyen to take money from FVE and deposit it into Integrity's trust account. (Request for Judicial Notice, Exhibit 1.) Plaintiff did not allege sufficient facts to allege Suzuki was negligent.

Accordingly, DFPI's demurrer is sustained with 15 days leave to amend.

In DFPI's reply, DFPI contends the Court need not decide whether Plaintiff timely complied with the Government Claims Act claim presentation requirement because Plaintiff did not state an actionable negligence claim against DFPI. (Reply, 5:11-13.) The Court declines to address whether Suzuki is immune from liability and whether Plaintiff's claim was timely presented because Plaintiff did not allege sufficient facts to state a cause of action for negligence against Suzuki.

Second cause of action for unconstitutional taking

DFPI contends Plaintiff did not allege Plaintiff's property was taken for a public use or that her property was taken by a government actor.

The parties do not dispute the California and U.S. Constitution make it unlawful for the government to take private property for a public purpose without compensation.

"The words 'public use,' in the eighth section of article one of our Constitution, mean a use which concerns the whole community, as distinguished from a particular individual or a particular number of individuals. But it is not necessary that each and every individual member of society should have the same degree of interest in this use, or be personally or

|     |                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|-----|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|     |                                                                      | directly affected by it, in order to make it public.” (Gilmer v. Lime Point (1861) 18 Cal. 229, 229.) The SAC alleges DFPI is an agency of the State of California and that DFPI unlawfully seized money from FVE’s escrow account. (SAC, ¶¶ 2 and 79.) Plaintiff alleges DFPI used the money for its own purposes, converted the majority of the money to pay itself “investigative costs,” and “absconded with the funds.” (Id., ¶¶ 56 and 79.) However, Plaintiff also alleged DFPI used a small portion to pay restitution to victims of the misappropriation. (Id., ¶ 56.) Plaintiff sufficiently alleged public use by a public actor. Accordingly, the demurrer on this ground is overruled. The Court notes DFPI did not demur to this cause of action on the ground that it is beyond the scope of the Court’s November 10, 2025 Order sustaining DFPI’s demurrer to the cause of action for negligence alleged in Plaintiff’s First Amended Complaint. (Harris v. Wachovia Mortgage, FSB (2010) 185 Cal.App.4th 1018, 1023.) The case management conference is continued to October 26, 2026 at 10:00 a.m. in Department C27. DFPI is directed to give notice. |
| 102 | 2024-01386407Broomall vs.Fountain ValleyEscrow, Inc. | Case Management Conference The case management conference is continued to October 26, 2026 at 10:00 a.m. in Department C27.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |