		A claim for punitive damages must be supported by specific factual allegations. The mere conclusory characterization of a defendant's conduct as "intentional, willful and fraudulent is a patently insufficient statement of 'oppression, fraud, or malice, express or implied, within the meaning of Civil Code section 3294.'" (Brousseau v. Jarrett (1977) 73 Cal.App.3d 864, 872.) Claims for punitive damages "must include specific factual allegations showing that defendant's conduct was oppressive, fraudulent, or malicious ... [p]unitive damages may not be pleaded generally." (Today's IV, Inc. v. Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (2022) 83 Cal.App.5th 1137, 1193.) Here, the FACC only asserts conclusory labels to support the claim for punitive damages. Cross-Complainant shall include specific facts that justify a claim for punitive damages if it elects to file a Second Amended Cross-Complaint. Cross-Defendant shall provide notice of this ruling.
