

Additional detail is missing as to personal expenditures for minor. For example, grocery spending appears to exceed a reasonable amount for minor's consumption. Expenditures at Costco show numerous purchases exceeding $400.00, without explanation. The existence of minor's estate does not relieve mother of the legal duty to support minor.

Guardian's response is needed: the account shows car payments, insurance, and gas. The estate owns no vehicles, and minor is not of an age to drive. Guardian is not entitled to use minor's property to fund guardian's vehicle purchase, insurance, etc.

6. S-PR-0012854 In Re the Guardianship of Gruber Jacobs, Brooklyn Hailey

1st guardianship account

Appearance is required for continued hearing on 1st guardianship account.

Missing notice of hearing. Missing service of notice of hearing.

Account shows numerous entries which are insufficiently explained or substantiated, including, without limitation:

11 payments to American Express for no identified purposes totaling more than $48,500.00;

148 Amazon Prime purchases;

350 additional Amazon purchases, including multiple instances of more than a dozen purchases on the same day;

6 payments to Quick Quack car wash; minor is 8 years of age and does not own a vehicle;

Approximately $2,800 in salon payments;

$2,131.44 in reported gifts of guardianship property; guardian may not make gifts of any guardianship property at any time without court authorization.

Guardian's response to the foregoing concerns is superficial bordering on specious. As indicated, the account shows at least 498 Amazon payments during an account period of only 417 days. Guardian's response makes no serious attempt to explain or justify the profligate spending shown in the account and reveals pervasive misunderstanding of a guardian's duties and responsibilities. Guardian may not make gifts of guardianship property to minor, to minor's friends, to minor's family, or to anyone else. Guardian may not use minor's estate to fund a car wash subscription for guardian's personal use. Guardian's dismissive response as to the nearly $50,000 in unexplained American Express payments is egregiously inadequate. The estate is being depleted rapidly without justification. It is noted that guardian believes minor will receive large inheritance sums at an unknown future date. That does not excuse or justify wasteful, unexplained, unjustified spending—including pervasive spending for guardian's personal benefit—as clearly reported in the account. The likelihood that similar profligate spending has continued in the 9 months that have intervened since the account period closed appears high.

Missing final property on hand schedule. Summary of account erroneously states final assets consist only of cash. Securities account states provided with the account show that this assertion is factually inaccurate. Property on hand schedule is required to state both carry and estimated market values of all assets. Nothing in guardian's response to notes addresses this omission.

Missing necessary change in form of assets schedule(s) showing acquisition of each security position, whether as an initial purchase or dividend reinvestment. All securities transactions must be account in the report (and are necessary to establish the accounting carry value for securities). Nothing in guardian's response to notes addresses this omission.

Guardian admits to more than $7,600 in impermissible personal spending and alleges this has been "corrected." However, guardian also requests that these improper payments should be credited against guardianship fees she was been awarded but has not paid. It appears that by "corrected" guardian intended to indicate only that improper payments have stopped, not that the improper spending has been remedied by repayment to the estate.

Response by counsel for minor as to the accounting deficiencies and impermissible mismanagement and depletion of the estate is required.

Court determination is needed as to minor's counsel's recommendation that attorney fees be substantially reduced.

It is recommended further that counsel for minor be instructed by the court to petition to suspend and remove guardian of the estate and for appointment of a professional fiduciary as successor guardian of the estate. The alarming account entries, pervasive, unacknowledged, and uncorrected mismanagement and misuse of assets, and guardian's glib responses to prior calendar notes all fairly demand immediate and drastic court intervention.

These calendar notes are not a tentative ruling by the court on the merits of the petition. They are presented to assist the court and the parties to prepare for the hearing. Local Rule 80.1.4.
