LINE 2	23CV413944	Xiufeng Xie v. Doe, et al - Doe v. Xiufeng Xie	MOTION: SANCTIONS Defendant/Cross-Complainant's Motion for Sanctions Code of Civil Procedure section 128.5 authorizes sanctions for actions or tactics undertaken in bad faith that are frivolous or solely intended to cause unnecessary delay. Defendant/Cross-Complainant has not made the requisite showing to warrant the imposition of sanctions under the statute. Although the Court finds that Defendant/Cross-Complainant has now made a sufficient showing supporting protections pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 367.3, the Court does not find that Plaintiff/Cross-Defendant knowingly violated those protections or otherwise acted in a manner warranting sanctions. Accordingly, the motion for sanctions is DENIED. Plaintiff/Cross-Defendant shall prepare and submit the final proposed order, together with the required EFS-020 forms, within 7 days of the hearing date.

LINE 4	24CV431226	Kimberly Chaffee v. Nimisha Garg et al.	MOTION: OTHER Plaintiff, in pro per, files a motion seeking disclosure of settlement and sanctions against Plaintiff's former counsel in this action. The motion fails to identify a proper statutory basis for relief or the Court's authority to impose sanctions against non-party former counsel in this proceeding. Given the lack of clarity in the request and the procedural posture, the Court cannot properly adjudicate the motion on the papers. The motion is DENIED without prejudice. Parties are ordered to appear to address the scope of the motion, the relief sought, and threshold procedural issues.
