CLAUDIA GONZALEZ v. MEYER CORPORATION U.S. and DIEGO PEREZ
Case No. FCS058246

Plaintiff's Motion to Conduct Discovery of MEYER's Financial Condition

TENTATIVE RULING

Plaintiff CLAUDIA GONZALEZ moves for leave to conduct discovery of Defendant MEYER CORPORATION U.S.'s ("MEYER") financial condition. Plaintiff relevantly alleges causes of action against MEYER for discrimination and harassment in violation of the Fair Employment and Housing Act, based on alleged derogatory comments and conduct from Defendant DIEGO PEREZ ("PEREZ"), Plaintiff's supervisor at MEYER.

Legal Standard. Code of Civil Procedure section 3295 states that a plaintiff may not conduct pretrial discovery of a defendant's financial condition for purposes of assessing punitive damages unless that plaintiff first obtains an order permitting discovery from the court. Such an order may only be granted upon motion "supported by appropriate affidavits" such that the court determines that the plaintiff has a substantial probability of prevailing on his claim for related damages.

To prevail on such a motion a plaintiff must demonstrate a substantial probability that he will prevail on his claim for punitive damages at trial; this requires the court to weight the evidence submitted in favor of and in opposition to the motion and find that it is very likely – not simply likely, but very likely – that the plaintiff will prevail on the punitive damages claim at trial. (Jabro v. Superior Court (2002) 95 Cal.App.4th 754, 758.) In turn, Civil Code section 3294, subdivision (a) provides that punitive damages are only available in actions not arising from breach of contract if is "proven by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant has been guilty of oppression, fraud, or malice." "Malice" means conduct intended to cause injury or despicable conduct carried on with a willful and conscious disregard of the rights or safety of others; "oppression" means despicable conduct that subjects a person to cruel and unjust hardship in conscious disregard of that person's rights; and "fraud" means intentional misrepresentation, deceit, or concealment of a material fact with intention to cause injury. (Civ. Code § 3294, subd. (c).) "Despicable" conduct refers to that which is "base, vile, or
