

FL-25-000276 RODRIGUEZ VS PEREZ

County: stanislaus

Division: Family Law

Department: 11

Hearing date: 2026-07-06

Motion: Petitioner's Request for Order re "Reopen Case"—DENIED, without prejudice. There is no such thing as a motion to "reopen" a case. This action was not "closed" subject to being "opened" again. Rather, when Petitioner was served with an Order to Show Cause regarding failure to appear and to prosecute the action as required by court orders and the rules of court, Petitioner again failed to appear for the OSC and the Court accordingly ordered the action to be dismissed. An order of involuntary dismissal is a judgment that terminates the action. Except for a timely filed and served motion for relief or to set aside that dismissal, the Court lacks further jurisdiction to proceed. Petitioner may wish to seek legal advice at her own expense but is welcome to contact the Court's Self-Help Center for free assistance with legal forms and procedures that do not require legal advice. Otherwise, Petitioner is of course free to file a new dissolution action but, if so, should proceed diligently and make all court appearances as required. The following are the tentative ruling cases calendared before Judge J. Richard Distaso in Department #13: THERE ARE NO TENTATIVES. The following are the tentative ruling cases calendared before Judge Sarah Birmingham in Department #14: THERE ARE NO TENTATIVES. The following are the tentative ruling cases calendared before Judge Maria Elena Ramos-Ratliff in Department #25:

Source URL: <https://www.stanislaus.courts.ca.gov/online-services/tentative-rulings/family-law-tentative-rulings>

Source SHA-256: 92f6c369e507b95a37705f462eedd2f4397daf3130086c287e990b13f106cdf

FL-25-000276 – RODRIGUEZ VS PEREZ

Petitioner's Request for Order re "Reopen Case"—DENIED, without prejudice.

There is no such thing as a motion to "reopen" a case. This action was not "closed" subject to being "opened" again. Rather, when Petitioner was served with an Order to Show Cause regarding failure to appear and to prosecute the action as required by court orders and the rules of court, Petitioner again failed to appear for the OSC and the Court accordingly ordered the action to be dismissed. An order of involuntary dismissal is a judgment that terminates the action. Except for a timely filed and served motion for relief or to set aside that dismissal, the Court lacks further jurisdiction to proceed. Petitioner may wish to seek legal advice at her own expense but is welcome to contact the Court's Self-Help Center for free assistance with legal forms and procedures that do not require legal advice. Otherwise, Petitioner is of course free to file a new dissolution action but, if so, should proceed diligently and make all court appearances as required.

The following are the tentative ruling cases calendared before Judge J. Richard Distaso in Department #13:

THERE ARE NO TENTATIVES.

The following are the tentative ruling cases calendared before Judge Sarah Birmingham in Department #14:

THERE ARE NO TENTATIVES.

The following are the tentative ruling cases calendared before Judge Maria Elena Ramos-Ratliff in Department #25: