Plaintiff has leave to file an oversized reply brief, not to exceed 5 pages over the page limits in the California Rules of Court.

The Court also sets an Informal Discovery Conference for August 28, 2026 at 11:00 a.m. The Court notes that discovery is not stayed pending the adjudication of a motion for a protective order. (See generally CCP § 2031.060.) A motion for protective order must be narrowly tailored to address specific objectionable discovery, not be used as a tool to delay all discovery.

For the informal discovery conference, Plaintiff must file a brief IDC statement indicating what discovery it intends to respond to, or has already responded to and what categories of evidence will remain to be addressed in the motion for protective order. This should not exceed 3 pages, and is due by August 14, 2026.

Defendant must file a responsive statement, not to exceed three pages. Defendant's statement is due by August 21, 2026.

Moving party to give notice.
