Case Number: 25STCV27127 Hearing Date: August 6, 2026 Dept: 517

Pending before the Court are four motions that Defendant filed seeking orders compelling Plaintiff to provide further responses to multiple forms of discovery that Defendant propounded on Plaintiff. Defendant also seeks in the motions orders imposing monetary sanctions against the Plaintiff in the form of the attorney's fees that Defendant incurred in connection with the motions.

Defendant's reply briefs in support of the motions acknowledge that, after the motions were filed, Plaintiff provided further responses to the discovery in question and that those responses complied with applicable requirements of the Code of Civil Procedure. This moots the request in the motions for orders compelling those responses. It does not, however, moot the requests in the motions for orders imposing monetary sanctions against the Plaintiff in the form of the attorney's fees that Defendant incurred in connection with the motions. In the Court's view, monetary sanctions against Plaintiff are warranted here. That is because, on the record before the Court, there does not appear to be substantial justification for Plaintiff's failure to provide Code-compliant discovery responses before Defendant filed the motions. Defendant seeks attorney's fees in the amount of $1,500 per motion, for a total of $6,000. That strikes the Court as a reasonable amount. The sanctions are payable by Plaintiff to Defendant's counsel within 45 days of this order.
