CASE NO.: 26VECV02681

ORDER

DENYING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO COMPEL RESPONSES TO SPECIAL INTERROGATORIES

ORDER

DENYING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO COMPEL FURTHER RESPONSES TO REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

I.

BACKGROUND

This is an unlawful detainer action. Plaintiff Farhad Dorrani ("Plaintiff") alleges Defendants Shawn L.
Zanotti ("Zanotti") and Exact Publicity, LLC ("Exact") are in possession of the premises located at 22528 MacFarlane Drive, Woodland Hills, CA 91364, which Plaintiff owns. Plaintiff alleges at the time the 3-day notice to pay rent or quit was served, the amount of rent due was $79,200.00.

Plaintiff now moves to compel Special Interrogatories (Set One) from Zanotti and Exact. Plaintiff also moves to compel further responses to his Requests for Production (Set One) from Zanotti and Exact.

LEGAL STANDARD

A.

Motion
to Compel Further - Requests for Production

In responding to a request for production of documents, a party must provide one of the following: (1) a legally adequate statement of compliance; (2) a statement of inability to comply; or (3) an objection to the particular demand. (See Code Civ. Proc. § 2031.210(a).) [1] If any objections are made, they must: (1) “[i]dentify with particularity any document
... falling within any category of item in the demand to which an objection is being made”; and (2) “[s]et forth clearly the extent of, and the specific ground for, the objection.”<sup>2</sup> (Id.
at § 2031.240(b).) A statement that the responding party is unable to comply with a particular demand “shall affirm that a diligent search and a reasonable inquiry has been made in an effort to comply with that demand”; “shall also specify whether the inability to comply is because the particular item or category has never existed, has been destroyed, has been lost, misplaced, or stolen, or has never been, or is no longer, in the possession, custody, or control of the responding party”; and “shall set forth the name and address of any natural person or organization known or believed by that party to have possession, custody, or control of that item or category of item.” (Id. at § 2031.230.)

A party who believes a responding party has served (1) an incomplete statement of compliance, (2) an inadequate, incomplete, or evasive statement of compliance, or (3) an unmeritorious objection can move for an order compelling further responses but must “set forth specific acts showing good cause justifying the discovery sought by the demand.” (See id. at §§ 2031.310(a)-(b)(1).)

B.

Motion to Compel - Interrogatories

If a party to whom interrogatories are directed fails to serve a timely response, the propounding party may move for an order compelling responses and for a monetary sanction. (See Code Civ. Proc. § 2030.290(b).) The statute contains no time limit for a motion to compel where no responses have been served. All that need be shown in the moving papers is that a set of interrogatories was properly served on the opposing party, that the time to respond has expired, and that no response of any kind has been served. (See Leach v. Superior Court (1980) 111 Cal.App.3d 902, 905-906.

IV.

The Court

will deny Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel and Motion to Compel Further Discovery presently before the Court. Plaintiff improperly combines two requests for relief as to two separate Defendants in each discovery motion. Plaintiff moves to compel Special Interrogatories (Set One) from Zanotti and Exact. Plaintiff also moves to compel further responses to his Requests for Production (Set One) from Zanotti and Exact. While there is no section formally requiring separate motions under the Code of Civil Procedure, discovery motions require separate filing fees; one party, one set of discovery, one motion. (See Govt. Code § 70617(a)(4) (setting forth the required filing fee for each motion, application, or any other paper or request requiring a hearing); see also Weil & Brown, Civil Procedure Before Trial (The Rutter Group 2024) [8:1140.1] (“Motions to compel compliance with separate discovery requests ordinarily should be filed separately.”)

Additionally,
the Court notes another procedural defect. The separate statement in support of Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel Further does not state facts showing good cause justifying the discovery sought by the demand or reasons why the response is deficient. (See Code Civ. Proc. § 2031.310(b)(1); Rules of Court, rule 3.1345(c)(3); Sep. Stmt. Nos. 1-7.)

V.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, the Court DENIES Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel and Motion to Compel Further Discovery, including Plaintiff’s request for discovery sanctions.
