[TENTATIVE] ORDER RE:

APPLICATION OF

DANIEL J. COHEN TO APPEAR PRO HAC VICE

Daniel J. Cohen applies for an order granting permission to appear pro hac vice in the instant action on behalf of Plaintiff Jorge Ibarra. The Court notes multiple defects with the application.

Pursuant to California Rules of Court, rule 9.40(d)(1), "[t]he application must state:

(1) The applicant's residence and office address." Mr. Cohen provides his residential address but does not provide his office address.

The

application must also state "[t]he courts to which the applicant has been admitted to practice and the dates of admission." (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 9.4(d)(2).) Mr. Cohen does not provide the dates of admission.

Additionally,

to be eligible for pro hac vice admission, an individual must not be "(1)

A resident of the State of California; (2) Regularly employed in the State of California; or (3) Regularly engaged in substantial business, professional, or other activities in the State of California." (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 9.40(a).) Although Mr. Cohen attests that he is not a resident of Missouri, he does not explain that he is not regularly employed or engaged in substantial business or other activities in California.

Furthermore,

"[a] person desiring to appear as counsel pro hac vice in a superior court must file with the court a verified application together with proof of service by mail in accordance with Code of Civil Procedure section 1013a of a copy of the application and of the notice of hearing of the application on all parties who have appeared in the cause and on the State Bar at its San Francisco office." (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 9.40(c)(1).) Here, proof of service demonstrates that Defendant and the State Bar were only served electronically. Mr. Cohen must file proof of service by mail.

Based on the foregoing, the application is DENIED without prejudice.

Plaintiff is ordered to provide notice of this Order.
