Case Number: 19SMCV00133 Hearing Date: September 4, 2026 Dept: I

The matter is here for a jury trial. FSC materials were previously submitted and the court assumes that they are still valid.

The court will discuss the trial with the parties. While the court can likely begin the trial on September 14, 2026, the court does not think it can finish the trial before the court is dark at week's end. The court will discuss whether the best option is to re-set the trial for immediately upon the court's return in October or set a new trial date. There is also a possibility that another department can take the case on September 14, and the court will discuss that with the parties as well. In any event, assuming that the case has not settled and that the prior FSC materials remain valid, the case does appear ready for trial.
