Tentative Ruling:

APPEARANCE ORDERED (Zoom not allowed)

The petition for SIJF alleges neglect by both parents. Under California law, neglect includes "... the willful or negligent failure of the parent or guardian to provide the child with adequate food, clothing, shelter, or medical treatment." Cal. Welf. & Inst. Code § 300(b)(1). Based upon the proposed ward's declaration, the Court does not find that the parents' economic constraints were either willful or negligent. They made their best efforts to provide the child with adequate food, clothing, shelter and medical treatment while he lived with them, and when a better opportunity arose with a family member in Guatemala, they encouraged the proposed ward to live with his uncle. As such, the petitions are DENIED.
