

		well within the context of the Song-Beverly Act. Dhital held that the economic loss rule does not bar claims for fraudulent inducement, including, as alleged here, through fraudulent concealment. (Id., p. 843.) Accordingly, the demurrer on this ground is OVERRULED. The case management conference is continued to October 12, 2026 at 9:00 a.m. in Department C28. Defendant shall give notice of this ruling.
51.	Gip v. General Motors LLC 2025- 01484462	Plaintiff Logan Tu Gip's motion for attorney fees and costs is GRANTED. (Code Civ. Proc., §§ 1032, subd. (b) [prevailing party entitlement to costs generally], 1033.5, subd. (a)(10)(B) [recoverable costs may include attorney fees pursuant to statute; Civ. Code, § 1794, subd. (d) [prevailing party in Song-Beverly action entitled to reasonable fees/costs].) Plaintiff is awarded attorney fees in the amount of $11,925.00, which amount the court finds was reasonably and necessarily incurred. The court has reduced the fees sought based on a reduced paralegal hourly rate, fees incurred for clerical tasks, and excessive fees claimed for the fee motion itself that did not occur; however, the court finds that the attorney's hourly rates appear proper. (PLCM Group, Inc. v. Drexler (2000) 22 Cal.4th 1084, 1095 [reasonable hourly rate "is that prevailing in the community for similar work"]; Syers Properties III, Inc. v. Rankin (2014) 226 Cal.App.4th 691, 700 ["determination of the 'market rate' is generally based on the rates prevalent in the community where the court is located"]; Nishiki v. Danko Meredith, APC (2018) 25 Cal.App.5th 883, 899 ["a trial court has its own expertise in the value of legal services performed in a case ... and it may rely on its own familiarity with the local legal market in setting the hourly rate"].) Plaintiff's request for a "Lodestar Enhancement," presumably a multiplier, is DENIED. This appears to be a routine lemon law case, with no unusual facts or novel legal issues requiring exceptional skill. (Mikhaeilpoor v. BMW of North America, LLC (2020) 48 Cal.App.5th 240, 248, citing Press v. Lucky Stores, Inc. (1983) 34 Cal.3d 311, 322, fn. 12 [multiplier factors].) Plaintiff's request for $835.55 in costs is also DENIED. Plaintiff has already filed a Memorandum of Costs for this amount. (ROA 24.) Defendant did not seek to strike or tax that memorandum. Thus, this separate request for costs is duplicative.
