27. S-PR-0014058 In Re the Carol Victoria Forster Trust

Missing sufficient notice of hearing for petition to determine trust property. Use of mandatory form DE-115 is required for Prob.C. § 850 notice in order to satisfy the content requirements of Prob.C. § 851(c)(1) & (3).

The petition does not include sufficient allegations on which relief may be granted. Petitioner does not allege the current state of record title to either of the subject real properties, or when or how title to either was obtained.

Relief is not available under Estate of Heggstad (1993) 16 Cal.App.4th 943 because the properties are not identified in the trust or any trust exhibit.

Whether relief is available under Ukkestad v. RBS Asset Finance Inc. (2015) 235 Cal.App.4th 156 depends, in part, on when title to the subject properties was acquired. In Ukkestad, the court determined that an all-real-property funding clause can satisfy the statute of frauds to create a trust in real property not identified in the writing but which can be defined by extrinsic evidence such as real property records. Ukkestad, supra, 235 Cal.App.4th at 162–163. However, the trust provision in Ukkestad "assigned the ownership of all of [settlor's] real property to the trustees of the Trust effective immediately." Id. at 159 (emphasis added). Ukkestad did not involve after-acquired property and so does not hold that property acquired contrary to the trust after its execution is or automatically becomes trust property. The allegations of the petition do not establish that sufficient extrinsic evidence existed at the time the trust was executed to establish that the trust was funded with the subject properties.

The pourover will has no effect until probated and, when probated, requires estate administration. "In the absence of any transfer to [a] trust prior to [decedent's] death," assets become part of the decedent's estate despite will language expressing decedent's desire that assets be held in trust. Placencia v. Strazicich (2019) 42 Cal.App.5th 730, 735 & 743-744 (emphasis added). "It [is] error for the court to award [such property] directly to [a] trust in the absence of a probate proceeding." Id., citing Estate of Hart (1957) 151 Cal.App.2d 271, 280–281. See also Prob.C. § 7001. "[A] probate court ha[s] no power to consider the legality of a will until it [is] regularly brought before it by a petition for its probate." Estate of Burnett (1935) 6 Cal.App.2d 116, 123.

Because the allegations are insufficient for the court to grant relief, it is recommended the petition be denied.

These calendar notes are not a tentative ruling by the court on the merits of the petition. They are provided to assist the court and the parties to prepare for the hearing. Local Rule 80.1.4.
