JOSEPH

LAKE vs VIKING INSURANCE COMPANY OF WISCONSIN, et al.

June

AM

NATURE OF PROCEEDINGS:

PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY ADJUDICATION.

RULING:

The Court sustains

Defendants' evidentiary objections filed on June 11, 2026.

The Court denies the Motion.

I.

BACKGROUND

On November 10, 2025, JOSEPH

LAKE (Plaintiff) filed a Complaint against VIKING INSURANCE COMPANY OF

WISCONSIN and DAIRYLAND INSURANCE COMPANY dba SENTRY INSURANCE COMPANY

(Defendants), listing Causes of Action for:

1.

DECLARATORY RELIEF (CODE CIV. PROC. §1060);

2.

RESCISSION (CIV. CODE §§1689–1691);

3.

RESTITUTION / EQUITABLE RELIEF.

Plaintiff alleges that he qualifies for rescission and declaratory relief concerning a $15,000.00 settlement with “Release of All Claims”, related to an automobile collision, because,

“Plaintiff executed a release that—unbeknownst to him—purported to discharge

both Viking’s named insured, Abraham Lorenzo, and the separately insured driver, Rivas”, who had a separate insurance policy. (Complaint, ¶ 3.)

On April 1, 2026, Plaintiff

filed the Motion for Summary Adjudication of Issues, about rescission of the alleged settlement agreement, based upon Defendant’s misrepresentation or the Plaintiff’s mistake.

Defendants oppose, based upon counterarguments made on the merits, such as that there was no

misrepresentation or cognizable mistake, where Plaintiff read the agreement expressly releasing both insureds. They also object to notice being two days short before the hearing. (Opposition, 2:3-8.)

But objections to defects in motion service are waived where an opposition was filed or argued, addressing the merits. (In re Marriage of Falcone and Fyke (2008) 164 Cal.App.4th 814, 826; Reedy v. Bussell (2007) 148 Cal.App.4th

1272, 1289; Arambula v. Union Carbide

Corp. (2005) 128 Cal.App.4th 333, 342; Carlton

v. Quint (2000) 77 Cal.App.4th 690, 697.)

II.

LEGAL STANDARD

Legislative intent

is that an issue shall be worded so as to dispose of an entire cause of action or defense (Nazir v. United Airlines, Inc.

(2009) 178 Cal.App.4th 243, 249.) A court cannot adjudicate any issue except those precisely stated in the notice. (E.g., Gonzales v. Superior Court (1987) 189 Cal.App.3d 1542, 1546; Maryland Cas. Co. v. Reeder (1990) 221 Cal.App.3d 961, 974, n.3.)

Plaintiffs may shift

the burden of proof to the opposition by submitting evidence as to every element of the cause of action. (Code Civ. Proc., § 437c, subd. (p)(1); WRI Opportunity Loans II, LLC v. Cooper (2007) 154 Cal.App.4th 525, 532.)

III.

ANALYSIS

Plaintiff summarizes the bases for rescission of the release agreement, as follows: “Prior to execution of the Release, Defendant affirmatively and repeatedly distinguished between

Abraham Lorenzo as the “insured” and Roberto Sanchez Rivas as an ‘insured driver.’ At the same time, Defendant’s communications expressly reflected that Rivas maintained separate insurance coverage. These representations created a reasonable understanding that the settlement being offered was limited to the Viking policy issued to Lorenzo.” (Motion, 4:1-5.)

Defendants reason that there was no misrepresentation or cognizable mistake, because: “Before signing

the Release, Plaintiff was aware Rivas may have had separate insurance coverage, received a letter identifying that coverage, read the Release that explicitly named Rivas as a released party, and signed voluntarily while represented by counsel.” (Opposition, 1:18-20.)

Plaintiff’s Reply seeks to bolster the Motion based upon adding a supplemental Separate Statement and Declaration, to which Defendants filed evidentiary objections on June 11, 2026.

The elements of the Causes of Action for Rescission are these:

Consent of the party rescinding or of any jointly contracting party given or obtained by or through:

mistake;

1.

material to the contract;

2.

not the result of neglect of a legal duty;

3.

enforcement of the contract as made

would be unconscionable;

4.

other party can be placed in status

quo;

5.

party seeking relief gives prompt notice of his election to rescind; and 6.

party restores or offers to restore to other party everything of value received under contract;

duress;

menace;

fraud; or

undue influence; and exercised by or

with the connivance of the party as to whom the party rescinds, or of any other party to the contract jointly interested with such party.

(Civ. Code, § 1689; White v. Berrenda

Mesa Water Dist. (1970) 7 Cal.App.3d 894, 901 [addressing mistake elements]. See also Grenall v. United of Omaha Life Ins. Co. (2008) 165 Cal.App.4th

188, 193 ["A contracting party bears the risk of a mistake when the agreement so provides or when the party is aware of having only limited knowledge of the facts relating to the mistake but treats this limited knowledge as sufficient."]; Donovan v. RRL Corp. (2001) 26 Cal.4th 261, 283 ["the risk of a mistake must be allocated to a party where the mistake results from that party's neglect of a legal duty."]; San Diego Hospice v. County of San Diego (1995) 31 Cal.App.4th 1048, 1055 ["A party seeking rescission based on fraudulent nondisclosure must show (1) the defendant failed to disclose a material fact which he knew or believed to be true, and (2) the defendant had a duty to disclose that fact.... The duty to disclose arises when two elements are present: (1) the material fact is known to (or accessible only to) the defendant;

and (2) the defendant knows the plaintiff is unaware of the fact and cannot reasonably discover the undisclosed fact."].)

Preliminarily, the Court disregards the untimely Separate Statement and Declaration, which deprive Defendants of an opportunity to respond to them. "The [summary judgment] reply shall not include any new evidentiary matter, additional material facts, or separate statement submitted with the reply and not presented in the moving papers or opposing papers." (Code Civ. Proc., § 437c, subd. (a)(4).)

Alternatively, the Court considers the late documents, and reasons that they do not change the analysis on the merits.

First, that

Defendant, “repeatedly distinguished between Abraham Lorenzo as the ‘insured’ and Roberto Sanchez Rivas as an ‘insured driver’ in its communications with Plaintiff’s counsel” (Separate Statement, fact number 11), is not any misrepresentation or nondisclosed fact concerning the scope of the release. “To be ‘material’ for purposes of a summary judgment proceeding, a fact must relate to some claim or defense in issue under the pleadings, and it must also be essential to the judgment in some way.” (Riverside

County Cmty. Facilities Dist. v. Bainbridge 17 (1999) 77 Cal.App.4th 644, 653.) The law applying to the pled legal theories determines materiality in summary judgment motions. (Panattoni v.

Superior Court (1988) 203 Cal.App.3d 1092, 1094.)

Second, Plaintiff’s misunderstanding that the settlement was limited to the Viking policy issued to Lorenzo, is not a cognizable mistake, because it entails neglect of a legal duty to read the signed contract, expressly and clearly stating that both insureds, and their insurers, were being released, as follows: “release Viking Insurance Company of Wisconsin, ABRAHAM LORENZO

CORTIZO, ROBERTO SANCHEZ RIVAS, their subsidiaries, affiliates, stockholders, officers, directors, employees, agents, insurers, attorneys, predecessors, heirs, successors, and assigns, from any and all claims and damages as a result of an accident on and or about December 24, 2024
at or near GLENDALE BLVD, LOS ANGELES, CA.” (Motion, Exhibit A, 1st Para.)

(Underscoring added.) A party’s subjective understanding is not admissible to contradict express terms in a written contract. (Sunniland Fruit, Inc. v. Verni (1991) 233 Cal.App.3d 892, 898.)

Therefore, the Court determines that Plaintiff failed to shift the burden of proof. Alternatively, the Court concludes that Defendants have raised triable issues of material fact about whether Defendant misrepresented contract scope, or whether Plaintiff’s mistake was from a lack of awareness of clearly expressed contractual terms. (See, e.g., Separate Statements, fact number 11 and 14, and proof referenced thereat.)

IV.

CONCLUSION

The Court denies the Motion,
for reasons set forth above.
