HEARING

DATE: June 24, 2026 TRIAL DATE: NOT SET

CASE: Francisco Alvarez, et al. v. West Covina

Auto Retail, Inc., d/b/a Norm Reeves Honda Superstore West Covina

CASE

NO.: 24STCV23833

MOTION TO CONSOLIDATE

ARBITRATION PROCEEDINGS

MOVING

PARTY: Defendant West Covina Auto Retail,

Inc., d/b/a Norm Reeves Honda Superstore West Covina.

RESPONDING

PARTY(S): Plaintiffs

Francisco Alvarez and Joseph Kim

TENTATIVE RULING:

West

Covina Auto Retail's Motion to Consolidate Arbitration Proceedings is DENIED.

Moving Party to give notice.

BACKGROUND

This

is a wage and hour action. Plaintiffs allege that they were systematically underpaid and deprived of benefits by West Covina Auto Retail,

DISCUSSION:

West Covina Auto Retail moves to consolidate Plaintiffs' arbitration with several other pending arbitration proceedings pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 1281.3. The Court denies the motion. Under controlling precedent and the Federal Arbitration Act, issues of class arbitrability go to the arbitrator, not the Court.

Analysis

Section 1281.3 states:

A party to an arbitration

agreement may petition the court to consolidate separate arbitration proceedings, and the court may order consolidation of separate arbitration proceedings when:

(1) Separate arbitration

agreements or proceedings exist between the same parties; or one party is a party to a separate arbitration agreement or proceeding with a third party; and

(2) The disputes arise from the same transactions or series of related transactions; and

(3) There is common issue or issues of law or fact creating the possibility of conflicting rulings by more than one arbitrator or panel of arbitrators.

(Code

Civ. Proc. § 1281.3.) This provision, however, does not apply to this action. The Court has already decided that the Federal Arbitration Act governs the agreement. (See RJN Exh. 3 [March 21, 2025 Minute Order].) Under controlling California precedent applying the Federal Arbitration Act, questions regarding the availability of class or collective arbitration proceedings are reserved to the arbitrator, not the Court, absent an express contractual provision to the contrary. (Sandquist v. Lebo Automotive, Inc. (2016) 1 Cal.5th 233, 260.) West Covina Auto Retail's statement that a party may be forced into a coordinated arbitration proceeding with a stranger to that party's claim, based on Keating v. Superior Court (1982) 31 Cal.3d 584, 612, is no longer good law. (Sandquist, supra, 1 Cal.5th at fn.2.)

The relevant portion of the Arbitration Agreement concerning class and collective arbitration states:

This Agreement shall not be construed to allow or permit the consolidation or joinder of other claims or controversies involving any other employees, or permit such claims or controversies to proceed as a class action, collective action, or any similar representative action. No arbitrator shall have the authority under this agreement to order any such class or collective action.

The

Arbitration Agreements in this case do not expressly assign the availability of class, collective, or consolidation of arbitration to the Court. In fact, the Arbitration Agreements categorically and expressly forbid consolidation, even by the arbitrator. (RJN Exh. 2.1.) Under controlling authority, this language is dispositive. West Covina Auto Retail is not entitled to consolidation of arbitration proceedings.

Request

for Judicial Notice

Plaintiffs request that the Court take judicial notice of certain documents. The Court rules as follows:

1.

Petition

to Compel Arbitration between West Covina Auto Retail and Bryan Alfonso Garcia, et al. DENIED. (Gbur v. Cohen (1979) 93 Cal.App.3d 296, 301 (“[J]udicial notice . . . is always confined to those matters which are relevant to the issue at hand.”).)

2. Declaration of Alma Padilla In Support of Motion to Compel Arbitration in this Action. GRANTED. (Evid. Code § 452(d).)

3. The Court's March 21, 2025

Minute Order. GRANTED (Evid. Code § 452(d).)

CONCLUSION:

Accordingly, West Covina Auto Retail's Motion

to Consolidate Arbitration Proceedings is DENIED.

Moving Party to give notice.

IT IS

SO ORDERED.

Any party may submit on the tentative ruling by contacting the courtroom via email at [email protected] by no later than 4:00 p.m. the day before the hearing. All interested parties must be copied on the email. It should be noted that if you submit on a tentative ruling the court will still conduct a hearing if any party appears. By submitting on the tentative you have, in essence, waived your right to be present at the hearing, and you should be aware that the court may not adopt the tentative, and may issue an order which modifies the tentative ruling in whole or in part.
