MOTION

Motion

to Compel Arbitration

MOVING PARTY

Defendant

Ascend Healthcare, LLC

OPPOSING PARTY

Plaintiff

Caleb Bronstein

MOTION

This case arises from allegations that Defendant Ascend Healthcare, LLC ("Defendant") or "Ascend"), a non-medical behavioral health care and treatment program, negligently allowed Plaintiff Caleb Bronstein ("Plaintiff") to hang himself during its care and treatment of him, resulting in permanent anoxic brain damage from prolonged asphyxiation. The Complaint alleges a single cause of action for Negligence.

Ascend now moves to compel Plaintiff's claim to arbitration. Plaintiff opposes the motion and Ascend replies.

MOTION TO COMPEL ARBITRATION – LEGAL STANDARDS

"[T]he advantages of arbitration include a presumptively less costly, more expeditious manner of resolving disputes. It follows a party to a valid arbitration agreement has a contractual right to have its dispute with another party to the contract resolved quickly and inexpensively." (Henry v. Alcove Investment, Inc. (1991) 233 Cal.App.3d 94, 99–100 [cleaned up].)

Thus, "on petition of a party to an arbitration agreement alleging the existence of a written agreement to arbitrate a controversy and that a party to the agreement refuses to arbitrate that controversy, the court shall order the petitioner and the respondent to arbitrate the controversy if it determines that an agreement to arbitrate the controversy exists." (Code Civ. Proc., § 1281.2; see also Capital Partners v. Pless (2007) 150 Cal.App.4th 1311, 1320 [the language in section 1281.2 compelling arbitration is mandatory].) The right to compel arbitration exists unless the court finds that the right has been waived by a party's conduct, other grounds exist for revocation of the agreement, or where a pending court action arising out of the same transaction creates the possibility of conflicting rulings on a common issue of law or fact. (Code Civ. Proc., § 1281.2, subds. (a)-(c).)

EFund

“On a petition to compel arbitration, the trial court must first determine whether an agreement to arbitrate the controversy exists. Because the existence of the agreement is a statutory prerequisite to granting the petition, the petitioner bears the burden of proving its existence by a preponderance of the evidence. The party seeking arbitration can meet its initial burden by attaching to the petition a copy of the arbitration agreement purporting to bear the respondent's signature.” (Bannister v. Marinidence Opco, LLC (2021) 64 Cal.App.5th 541, 543-544 [cleaned up].) The party seeking to compel arbitration must also “plead and prove a prior demand for arbitration and a refusal to arbitrate under the agreement.” (Mansouri v. Superior Court (2010) 181 Cal.App.4th 633, 640-641.)

And while the moving party on a motion to compel arbitration “bears the burden of proving the existence of a valid arbitration agreement by a preponderance of the evidence, [a] party opposing the petition bears the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence any fact necessary to its defense. The trial court sits as the trier of fact, weighing all the affidavits, declarations, and other documentary evidence, and any oral testimony the court may receive at its discretion, to reach a final determination.” (Ruiz v. Moss Bros. Auto Group, Inc. (2014) 232 Cal.App.4th 836, 842 [cleaned up]; see also Pinnacle Museum Tower Assn. v. Pinnacle Market Development (US), LLC (2012) 55 Cal.4th 223, 236 [“The party seeking arbitration bears the burden of proving the existence of an arbitration agreement, and the party opposing arbitration bears the burden of proving any defense, such as unconscionability”].)

ENFORCEABLE ARBITRATION AGREEMENTS

In support of the motion, Ascend advances the Residential Care and Supervision Program Admission and Financial Agreement, executed by Plaintiff’s guardians on Plaintiff’s behalf, which contains the following provision:

25. Dispute Resolution. In the event that any disagreement, dispute or claim arises among the parties hereto with respect to the enforcement or interpretation of this Agreement or any specific terms and provisions hereof or with respect to whether an alleged breach or default hereof has or has not occurred (collectively, a "Dispute"), such Dispute shall be settled in accordance with the following procedures:

25.1. Meet and Confer. In the event of a Dispute among the parties hereto, a party may give written notice to all other parties setting forth the nature of such Dispute (the "Dispute Notice. The parties shall meet and confer to discuss the Dispute in good faith within ten (10) days following the other parties' receipt of the Dispute Notice in an attempt to resolve the Dispute. All representatives shall meet at such date(s) and time(s) as are mutually convenient to the representatives of each participant within the "Meet and Confer Period" (as defined herein below).

25.2. Mediation. ,If the parties are unable to resolve the Dispute within thirty (30) days following the date of receipt of the Dispute Notice by the other parties (the "Meet and confer Period"), then the parties shall attempt in good faith to settle the Dispute through nonbinding mediation under the Mediation Rules of ADR Services, Inc. C-ADR Services"). A single disinterested third-party mediator located in Los Angeles, California shall be selected by ADR Services in accordance with its then current Mediation Rules. The parties to the Dispute shall share the expenses of the mediator and the other costs of mediation on a pro rata basis.

25.3. Arbitration. Any Dispute which cannot be resolved by the parties within sixty (60) days following the end of the Meet and Confer Period shall be resolved by final and binding arbitration (the "Arbitration-). The Arbitration shall be initiated and administered by and in accordance with the then current Arbitration Rules of AOR Services. The Arbitration shall be held in Los Angeles County, unless the parties mutually agree to have such proceeding in some other locale; the exact time and location shall be decided by the arbitrator(s) selected in accordance with the then current Arbitration Rules of ADR Services. The arbitrator(s) shall apply California substantive law, or federal substantive law where state law is preempted. The arbitrator(s) selected shall have the power to enforce the rights, remedies, duties, liabilities, and obligations of discovery by the imposition of the same terms, conditions, .and penalties as can be imposed in like circumstances in a civil action by a court of competent jurisdiction of the State of California. The arbitrator(s) shall have the power to grant all legal and equitable remedies provided by California law and award compensatory damages provided by California law, except that punitive damages shall not be awarded. The arbitrator(s) shall prepare in writing and provide to the parties an award including factual findings and the legal reasons on which the award is based. The arbitration award may be enforced through an action thereon brought in the Superior Court for the State of California in Los Angeles County. The prevailing party in any Arbitration hereunder shall be awarded reasonable attorneys' fees, expert and nonexpert witness costs and any other expenses Incurred directly or indirectly with said Arbitration, including without limitation the fees and expenses of the arbitrator(s).

THIS ELECTION OF AN ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE PROCESS IS AN AFFIRMATIVE WAIVER OF THE PARTIES' RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL UNDER CALIFORNIA LAW, Cal. C. Civ. Pro. Sec 631. BY SIGNING BELOW, EACH PARTY IS EXPLICITLY WAIVING JURY TRIAL AND AUTHORIZING ANY AND ALL PARTIES TO FILE THIS WAIVER WITH ANY COURT AS THE WAIVER REQUIRED UNDER Cal. C. Civ. Proc. Sec. 631(f)(2):

JURY TRIAL WAIVED:

Ascend Magnolia - By: Managing Director

Resident - By: Caleb Bronstein

(Ex.

A to Cohen Decl. at ¶¶ 25-25.3.)

In opposition, Plaintiff argues that Plaintiff's negligence claim falls outside the narrow scope of the arbitration provision at issue.

"The decision as to whether a contractual arbitration clause covers a particular dispute rests substantially on whether the clause in question is 'broad' or 'narrow.'" (Rice v. Downs (2016) 248 Cal.App.4th 175, 186.) A "broad" clause that extends to tort claims includes language such as "any claim arising from or related to this agreement" or "arising in connection with the agreement." (Ibid.) By contrast, a narrow arbitration clause that covers only contractual performance or interpretation issues contains language such as "relating to this agreement" or "in connection with this agreement." (Ibid.)

Here, the disputes to which the arbitration provision apply are those

“with respect to the enforcement or interpretation of this Agreement or any specific terms and provisions hereof or with respect to whether an alleged breach or default hereof has or has not occurred[.]” Thus, under the plain terms of the arbitration provision itself, only contractual claims, and not tort claims, are arbitrable.

In reply, Ascend cites to In Coast Plaza Doctors Hospital v Blue Cross of California (2000) 83 Cal.App.4th 677, 687 where the Court of Appeal, noting that any reasonable doubt as to whether the claims at issue are covered under the arbitration agreement must be resolved in favor of arbitration, found the language “any problem or dispute arising under this Agreement and/or concerning the terms of this Agreement” to be sufficiently broad to encompass tort claims.

By contrast, here, there is no such broad language encompassing claims arising under the agreement generally.

Rather, the specific phrases listed each apply exclusively to matters of contractual interpretation or performance. The agreement applies to disputes regarding (1) the enforcement or interpretation of this Agreement; (2) the specific terms and provisions of the Agreement; or (3) whether an alleged breach or default has or has not occurred. Thus, unlike the broad “arising under” language of In Coast Plaza, the arbitration agreement here lists only six specific issues (enforcement, interpretation, terms, provisions, breach, and default) all pertaining to contractual performance and interpretation.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, finding the plain language of the arbitration provision at issue does not encompass tort claims, the Court denies Defendant’s motion to compel Plaintiff’s negligence claim to arbitration.

Defendant shall provide notice of the Court’s ruling and file the notice with a proof of service forthwith.
