

		Instead, Defendant asserts Plaintiff's claims are barred by the defenses of judicial and/or equitable estoppel. (See Motion: 6:15-9:12.) However, these arguments extend well beyond Code of Civil Procedure section 664.6, under which judicial power is "extremely limited" to entering judgment "pursuant to the terms of the settlement." (Machado v. Myers (2019) 39 Cal.App.5th 779, 790; See also Code Civ. Proc., § 664.6, subd. (a).) Defendant cites no authority which supports granting relief pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 664.6, based on estoppel principles.
54	Vasquez vs. NGL Logistics, LLC 26-01557902	Motion for Leave to Intervene StarStone National Insurance Company's unopposed motion for leave to file a complaint-in-intervention is GRANTED. An employer who has paid workers' compensation benefits to an employee injured on the job has the right to intervene in the employee's lawsuit against the person causing such injury. (Lab. Code, § 3852.) If the employer is insured against liability for compensation with any insurer, such insurer is subrogated to the rights of the employer and may enforce any such subrogated rights in its own name. (Ins. Code, § 11662.) Thus, an employer's workers' compensation carrier also has the right to intervene. (See Bailey v. Reliance Ins. Co. (2000) 79 Cal.App.4th 449, 454 ["various provisions of the Labor Code seek to ensure that the employer (defined to include the insurance carrier under Lab. Code, § 3850) will be reimbursed for amounts paid to the injured employee which the employee has also recovered from a third party tortfeasor"].) If an action is brought by the employer or employee, the other may, at any time before trial on the facts, join as party plaintiff. (Lab. Code, § 3853.) Starstone National Insurance Company has a direct pecuniary interest in this action because it paid workers' compensation benefits to or on behalf of Plaintiff and seeks reimbursement through subrogation. (Declaration of Matthew Soleimanpour, ¶ 2.) Accordingly, it has a statutory right to intervene and a direct financial interest in this litigation. The motion is timely, as Labor Code section 3853 expressly permits intervention at any time prior to trial, and there is no indication of prejudice to the existing parties. Accordingly, the motion is granted. Starstone National Insurance Company shall electronically file its proposed complaint-in-intervention (Soleimanpour Decl., Ex. A) within 10 days of service of notice of this ruling and shall comply with Code of Civil Procedure section 387, subdivision (e), in serving the complaint-in-intervention. Moving party shall give notice of the ruling.

57	Monteiro vs. BMW of North America, LLC 24-01439792	Motion for Summary Judgment and/or Adjudication Defendant BMW of North America, LLC (“BMW”)’s motion for summary judgment against Plaintiff Briana Monteiro is GRANTED for the reasons set forth below. Evidentiary Objection Plaintiff’s evidentiary objection to Grube Declaration ¶ 8 is OVERRULED. General Legal Authority Under Code of Civil Procedure section 437c(c), a summary judgment motion shall be granted if all the papers submitted show there is no triable issue as to any material fact and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. A defendant meets its burden on summary judgment by showing that the plaintiff cannot prove its causes of action, or by establishing a complete defense to the plaintiff’s causes of action. (Code Civ. Proc., 437c(p)(2).) If a defendant does not meet this initial burden, the plaintiff need not oppose the motion and the motion must be denied. (Binder v. Aetna Life Ins. Co. (1999) 75 Cal.App.4th 832, 840.) If the defendant meets this initial burden, the burden shifts to the plaintiff to produce evidence demonstrating the existence of a triable issue of material fact. (Code Civ. Proc., § 437c(p)(2); Aguilar v. Atlantic Richfield Co. (2001) 25 Cal.4th 826, 850-851.) The nonmoving party must present substantial evidence in order to avoid summary judgment. (Sangster v. Paetkau (1998) 68 Cal.App.4th 151, 163.) “In some instances . . . , ‘evidence may be so lacking in probative value that it fails to raise any triable issue.’” (Whitmire v. Ingersoll-Rand Co. (2010) 184 Cal.App.4th 1078, 1083-1084, quoting Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. v. Great American Surplus Lines Ins. Co. (1988) 199 Cal.App.3d 791, 795.) “‘If the plaintiff is unable to meet her burden of proof regarding an essential element of her case, all other facts are rendered immaterial.’” (Saelzler v. Advanced Group 400 (2001) 25 Cal.4th 763, 780, quoting Leslie G. v. Perry & Associates (1996) 43 Cal.App.4th 472, 482.) In ruling on a motion for summary judgment, “the court must ‘consider all of the evidence’ and ‘all’ of the ‘inferences’ reasonably drawn therefrom, and must view such evidence and such inferences in the light most favorable to the opposing party.” (Aguilar v. Atlantic Richfield Co. , supra , 25 Cal.4th at p. 843, citations omitted.) Courts “‘construe the moving party’s affidavits strictly, construe the opponent’s affidavits liberally, and resolve doubts about the propriety of granting the motion in favor of the party opposing it.’” (Unilab Corp. v. Angeles-IPA (2016) 244 Cal.App.4th 622, 636, quoting Seo v. All–Makes Overhead Doors (2002) 97 Cal.App.4th 1193, 1201–1202.) A court may not make credibility determinations or weigh the evidence on a motion for
